2 Americans Killed And 50 Injured In Saigon Bomb Blast

Viet Cong Suspected Of Incident

15 Vietnamese, One Australian Injured Also In Explosion

WASHINGTON (AP) — At least two Americans were killed and 50 others injured today when a bomb blasted a U.S. military officers' hotel in Saigon, the Pentagon was advised.

Killed were an Army officer and a civilian, neither of whom was identified. The bomb presumably was planted by the Communist Viet Cong.

First reports from Saigon said that 20 of the Americans injured were hospitalized and 30 others were given medical treatment and released.

The seven-story building is in the heart of the city.

The Pentagon said initial reports sent here showed that in addition to the 50 Americans injured one Australian officer and 15 Vietnamese were hurt.

Earlier, a National Broadcasting Co. correspondent, Garrick Utley, reported from Saigon that the explosion occurred in the basement of the building

'Showdown' Unchanged In Viet Crisis

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Neither the United States nor Vietnamese military leaders showed signs of yielding today in their showdown over military interference in South Viet Nam's government.

On the U.S. side, informed sources said that the United States would probably withhold important new aid expected in Saigon for the Vietnamese war effort in about a month unless the crisis is settled within a few days.

Sources on the Vietnamese side said the defiant officers were considering an anti-American campaign that might include street demonstrations. The removal of U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor was reported to be an objective.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, the commander of the Vietnamese armed forces, appeared to hold undisputed control over his officers. There was no indication

Christians Wait Joy Of Christmas

But Many Areas Of World Troubled By Disputes, Fighting

By The Associated Press

Christians around the world prepared today to celebrate the joy of Christmas but in many areas troubled by controversy and fighting, joy remained only a hope.

Men were fighting and dying in the jungles of the Congo and Viet Nam in the Christmas of 1964. Yet most parts of the Christian world were at peace, however uneasy it might be.

"We must prepare ourselves well for Christmas, rekindling in our hearts the desire, the thirst, the anxiety for the living God and the blessed certainty of finding Christ, the God-made man," said Pope Paul VI in an audience at Vatican City.

From Washington, President Johnson sent "warmest Christmas greetings" to the 22,000 U.S. servicemen who are spending the holiday in Viet Nam fighting a war against communism.

Most of the men there will eat a sumptuous Christmas dinner despite the war, but for others in the field Friday will be just another day of war.

Comedian Bob Hope evoked a wildly enthusiastic welcome with a surprise visit to an air base in Viet Nam. The troops were told Hope would arrive only a few hours before he entertained them.

More fortunate American servicemen elsewhere in the

Yank Writes Wife From Viet Nam

This is a Christmas letter from one of the 20,000 U.S. servicemen on duty in Viet Nam. It was written from the war-torn Mekong delta by Army Capt. Don Masters to his wife Ann in Austin, Tex., and made available to The Associated Press.

CAN THO, South Viet Nam (AP) —

My Dearest,

It's the 21st of December and you can tell Christmas is drawing near. But some of the traditional atmosphere is missing. It's hot and muggy in Viet Nam's Mekong delta.

Tonight grown men stood around a wilting Christmas tree in shirt sleeves and short trousers singing carols. The tree stood on a mound of sandbags. Its base was covered by a white bed sheet.

There were a handful of American children — missionaries, dependents and children of the American civilian doctors who spend two or more years working with the Vietnamese in their hospitals. The American children stood side by side with the little brown Vietnamese children whose parents work inside the compound.

I couldn't swear that behind those little brown eyes lay a brain schooled in Christianity, or whether the gleam in their eyes saw the figurine of the Christ child or the gaily decorated packages.

But if my God is the God I know, he won't mind.

When the presents were handed out, the American children helped the timid little hands carefully open their gifts. It seemed the smaller the child the bigger the present.

Some American children received the small, less-expensive presents. I asked one little 10-year-old girl how she liked her present.

"That la rat dep," she said.

I frowned.

"That means it is beautiful," an American child said.

"Oh," I said.

The little American girl leaned over and whispered, "I asked mommy to save the big ones for home. Theirs — she pointed to the Vietnamese — should be the big ones."

She left me to go over and admire their presents.

When the party was over I went back to my room. I wanted to be alone with the pictures of you and the children. I sat down at my desk and gazed at you for a long while, just dreaming.

I almost opened my Christmas present; but then I am a grown man. I guess I can wait. At least I'll try.

Snow's Out For Holiday, Rain Forecast

Prospects for a White Christmas went glimmering today as the Ohio weatherman forecast occasional periods of rain or drizzle tonight and Friday.

Santa would have thought he was in Florida had he tried to arrive in East Liverpool a day ahead of schedule — the temperature soared to a balmy 58 downtown this morning and was expected to exceed 60 for a frustrating approach to the holiday.

It just wasn't Christmasy — that's what!

But there might be an appropriate if tardy crispness for the holiday as cooler temperatures are forecast while some sections of the state may get snow mixed with the rain late tomorrow.

A year ago, snow remaining from a storm three days before the holiday made it seem like Christmas weather, although it was relatively mild with a 42 high at noon.

But the lack of snow will be a boon to travelers.

District traffic was light this morning, according to the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon, but officers expect the flow to in-

MADRAS, India (AP) — Hundreds are believed dead in a cyclone and tidal wave that swept across southern India and Ceylon Wednesday.

The chief minister of Madras State reported that 200 persons were washed into the sea and drowned at Dhanushkodi, in southern India.

The Indian Express said 500 were feared drowned on the tiny island of Rameswaram, between India and Ceylon. The storm washed out the rail link between the island and the Indian mainland and smashed hundreds of grass huts.

Thousands In 5 States Homeless For Christmas

By The Associated Press

Thousands of victims in five flood - stricken Western states were homeless on this Christmas Eve, and more joined in the exodus to escape new flooding as rain pounded the afflicted areas for the third consecutive day.

Soiled Christmas trees floated among the surging debris.

The savage Pacific storm sent dozens of mountain rivers spilling into scores of cities and towns in California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Idaho.

At least 28 persons have died and more than 5,000 left homeless. Damage has been so great that officials have stopped estimating.

Parts of every state have been declared disaster areas. Air Force, Navy, National Guard, Red Cross, Coast Guard, and Civil Defense units were working around the clock with local officials to rescue thousands stranded by high water, slides and snow.

Rain and winds slackened briefly Wednesday but another low pressure system moved in from the Pacific and the heavy downpour resumed. The Weather Bureau forecast rain and strong winds from northern California to Washington through Friday.

In California's rugged north country, entire communities were cut off by merciless torrents that tore out at least 15 bridges, knocked out telephone lines and washed away huge sections of highways.

Hundreds of persons were trapped without food or medicine, clinging to rooftops or perched on islands awaiting rescue.

Every town along the Eel River in northwestern California was unindated. In the hamlet of Rio Dell city officials ordered phone and power poles toppled to convert the main street into an emergency landing strip. About 2,000 refugees waited for helicopters to rescue them.

The entire population of Willow Creek and Hoopa, in the heart of an Indian reservation, took refuge in the high school gymnasium on high ground.

Pepperwood, population 500, is gone—nothing visible but a few tree tops above the sea of water, air observers reported.

In Garberville, three pregnant women were reported in labor and in need of medical care.

Civil defense officials have written off the flood communities of South Fork, Myers Flat, Stafford and Weott, whose residents fled Tuesday.

Since 5 a.m. Wednesday the 2,500 inhabitants of Guerneville have lived on an island in the midst of the swirling Russian River. In the little Stork Club saloon rescuers and flood victims stood knee-deep in muddy water toasting each other and making jokes about the sign reading "No Dancing Allowed."

Further north, near the coastal city of Eureka, about 1,000 refugees, including women and small children, stood on high sections of U. S. 101 waving to helicopters that rushed in with relief supplies.

For many children it will be a sad Christmas. Trees and gifts became unessential baggage in the flight from the rushing waters. Hundreds will spend it in high school gymnasiums, Red Cross shelters or sharing it with strange families.

3 Accused In Bazooka Shot Freed On Bail

NEW YORK (AP) — Three anti-Castro Cubans accused of the abortive Dec. 11 bazooka attack on the United Nations secretariat building were released Wednesday night in $5,000 bail each.

Judge Albert Bosch of Manhattan ordered the trio freed from police custody after a bondsman appeared with the necessary bail. Their trial has been set for Jan. 6.

Dairy Given Injunction On City Milk Law

A temporary restraining order was issued in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon Wednesday, halting enforcement of the East Liverpool so - called service inspection permit ordinance used in citing three dairy firm deliverymen in recent weeks.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard granted the restrainer, which was sought by the Sealtest Foods Division of Cleveland against the city, its executive officers and the city Board of Health.

The court order applies to Section 1 of the 1963 ordinance, which set up fees to be paid by milk producers through their distributors for service-inspection fees.

The Sealtest firm, a division of the National Dairy Products Corp., claims two parts of the ordinance are invalid and unconstitutional — one which establishes a $3 fee for all milk producers within 50 miles and another which establishes a $5 fee for producers beyond 50 miles of the city, the fees to be paid by the processing plant and deducted from the producers' milk payment.

Sealtest declares the fee is excessive and places an unreasonable burden on the processer in that if there are more than 400 producers, the processer has to determine from which producers it is to collect the fee.

Further, many producers send milk to Sealtest, but only a small amount of milk received is sent to East Liverpool, Sealtest maintains.

The plaintiff said enforcement of the ordinance will "result in irreparable injury and damage" to Sealtest, and that the city officials have advised them the regulation will be enforced and the firm has not full and adequate remedy at law other than to seek the injunction.

George Taylor of Brilliant, an employe of the Cloverdale Dairy at Weirton, was cited by Gene Smith, Health Board sanitary officer, Tuesday on a charge he lacked the permit required by the law.

Hike In Mail Rates Eyed By Johnson

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has decided to ask Congress for higher rates on second and third-class mail and is now reported giving serious consideration to asking pay raises for Civil Service and postal workers.

The decision on pay increases for Uncle Sam's 2.46 million civilian workers is one of the policy questions still facing Johnson in the final stages of his work on the federal budget.

Budget Director Kermit Gordon said Wednesday that work on the budget was "over the hump." He steered clear of specific figures, but said the budget would be "very, very substantially below" the $108.5 billion originally asked by departments and agencies for the fiscal year which starts next July 1.

Asked if the total would be kept under $100 billion, Gordon

Midland Drops Sewage Charge

A Christmas present for Midland families — elimination of the $4.50 per quarterly sewage charge — for domestic users — was announced by the Midland Municipal Authority at the annual joint dinner meeting with Borough Council Wednesday night at the Esquire Grill.

Dr. Zanvel Sigal, authority chairman, announced the authority had approved the plan after receiving an opinion from Atty. Frank Suffoletta, borough solicitor, on its legality.

THE PLAN must be approved by Council but observers said that is considered a mere formality. Commercial and industrial fees will remain in effect.

The authority met prior to the dinner session to approve elimination of the sewage fees and charges for all single family and multiple family dwellings owned or occupied by individuals or families. It also awarded contracts for chemicals used by the water department.

The possibility of eliminating sewage charges was first raised in June when Mayor Eli Corak recommended a joint meeting between Council and the authority, citing the hardships which he said would be imposed on many families because of a new 4-mill real estate increase set by the Board of Education.

IN A LETTER to Council members, Mayor Corak had cited particularly the hardship the increase in tax millage would impose on retired workers, those living on fixed incomes, or who own both commercial and domestic properties.

Corak later sought an opinion from Atty. Suffoletta on whether the borough could exempt domestic users from paying the sewage charges.

Council voted general obligation bonds to construct the sewage plant and then turned the plant over to the authority to operate and retire the bonds.

Only the authority can set the rates although Council must give final approval.

THE CONTRACTS for chemicals went to the low bidders.

Opalco Laboratories received four contracts. It offered sodium chlorite at 53¼ cents per pound; activated carbon, $160.57 per ton; potassium permanganate, $28.15 per hundredweight, and calgon, $12.60 per hundredweight.

Chemply, Inc., was awarded contracts to supply liquid chlorine on its bid of $6.74 per hundredweight or $4.75 per hundredweight in one-ton cylinders, and for aluminum sulfate at $2.59 per hundredweight.

National Gypsum Co. received the contract to supply lime on a bid of $19.93 per ton.

Mail Carriers Distribute Tax Forms

There's always a damper on the Christmas spirit and the ghost-like form arrived at many East Liverpool homes this morning.

It was Uncle Sam's annual gift reminder — 1964 internal revenue forms which householders will sweat over for the next few months.

Carriers began distribution of the forms this morning after the first four sacks arrived at the Post Office. The four are the forerunner of many sacks scheduled to arrive here within the next few days.

The annual Christmas mail rush ended early today as carriers started their final rounds until Monday. "We've never been in better shape," a postal employe said.

Foot and mounted carriers will receive a three-day holiday, returning to work Monday. However, the Postal Department ordered rural deliveries made Saturday which means the three rural carriers along with clerks and supervisory officials will be on duty as usual.

However, there will be no window service Saturday, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said. Mail will be received and dispatched as usual and also will be distributed to box patrons. The lobbies at the main and Station A offices will remain open on the usual Saturday hours.

Getting There Alive

Everybody is being urged to avoid auto accidents during the holidays — and with special reason this year. Two long weekends are going to provide extra opportunities for accidents.

Almost all auto accidents are caused by thoughtlessness.

Or to put it another way, almost all auto accidents are caused by people who don't have their minds on their driving.

They are thinking about something else, maybe about getting somewhere in a hurry, or their next meal, or Santa Claus.

But they are not thinking exclusively about driving.

It is a full-time job, as all professional drivers know and all safety experts point out.

It almost never happens that a driver who is concentrating on safe driving is involved in an accident. If he is concentrating, he avoids causing accidents himself and avoids most accidents caused by others.

This is called defensive driving.

It should be practiced at all times, but especially during the holidays, when people let their minds wander from the objective of getting there alive.

There should be no other objective when driving an auto. Get there alive. Everything else then will take care of itself.

Fastest And Biggest Planes

By rough estimate, it will cost three-quarters of a billion dollars to get ready to begin to start to commence to build a fleet of hemisphere-spanning military transport airplanes that will be the biggest thing of their kind on earth.

The United States also, it should be remembered, is spending a comparable sum of money to build the prototype of a superbomber that will be the fastest thing of its kind on earth.

There is a faint hope that both these planes may have commercial value after they have been developed as military projects. But as there is in the man-on-the-moon project, there also is a faint doubt hanging over the projects.

The doubt is about the price of progress.

More specifically, the doubt is about progress, itself—what it really is.

Is there not some point in airplane designs, for instance, at which the designer knows there is nothing to be gained and something to be lost by going further?

Are not the airplane industry and its generous benefactor, the United States government, entangled in the same confusion that causes the auto industry to plunge into change for the sake of change, without being able to justify the change on any other grounds?

Does the United States need a bigger transport and a faster bomber, or is the United States going to get these startling improvements because someone wants to prove they can be designed, built, flown and, ultimately, paid for?

Does the United States need a man on the moon?

Don't Add The Temptation

One thing would be more nearly calculated to turn popular opinion against the military adventure in South Viet Nam than anything else that could happen.

Evidence of overt hostility to the United States and its military personnel in South Viet Nam would curdle public sentiment against continuing the operation there.

Foreign policy in this country is determined by what the people will stand for. That is the way representative democracy works.

The American people will not stand for demonstrations against their government by South Vietnamese mobs. They would construe such demonstrations to be a repudiation of everything that has been done so far with their tacit consent.

It would not matter that Congress has declared in a joint resolution that the United States is not in South Viet Nam to save that country but to block the spread of Communist influence in Southeast Asia.

Blocking Communism in that vast area of human restlessness and revolutionary ferment is such an amorphous project it never could be expected to win public support.

It was one thing to justify Vietnamese intervention by saying it was to save a fledging republic. There always is a soft place in U.S. opinion for rescue missions.

It would be something else to try to justify intervention by explaining it really was a military campaign against Asiatic Communism. The grand strategy of such a monumental campaign never would be grasped by Americans in general. And if they did grasp it, they would want to know what many military experts have wanted to know.

Why South Viet Nam? Why a land campaign geared to a tottering government that has shown no signs of being able to save itself? Why a terrain as poorly adapted to reaching a definitive military conclusion as almost any spot that could be picked on the surface of the earth?

No "Yanqui Go Home" demonstrations in South Viet Nam . . . please. It would be too tempting to get out in a hurry.

Relative Punishment For Murder

A British House of Commons vote to abolish capital punishment is no guarantee of agreement in the House of Lords. But the United Kingdom is coming close to a final decision on this touchy issue. The vote was 355-170.

The issue is touchier there than it is here because of traditional British attitudes about the use of the gallows to maintain social control of the lower classes. In the United States, there is no comparable fear of class uprising.

Eight years ago, the House of Commons also voted to abolish capital punishment but was thwarted by the House of Lords through a compromise that retained it for specified crimes: murder during theft, by shooting or causing an explosion, while escaping from legal custody, murder of a policeman or anyone helping a policeman, murder of a prison guard or official, or murder by anyone previously convicted of murder.

This is the same form of compromise proposed in the United States when proposals to abolish capital punishments are made. It is superficially attractive to those who want to stay on the safe side of the issue, but in fact it does not work well. Thus, a stabbing and a shooting are somehow different, though both might be fatal. Murder is not a relative but an absolute crime.

And that, ultimately, becomes the key to the issue—the impossibility of making logical distinctions between crimes of murder. If some murderers are to be treated differently, if capital punishment can be administered only to some and must be withheld from others, it had better be withheld from all murderers.

The United Kingdom is close to reaching that decision.

Christmas Eve

By Truman Twill

The night before Christmas will always be the same.

It belongs to each of us, personally.

For the young, it is a night for expectation.

For the old and the aging, it is a night for remembrance.

WANT TO KNOW how the night before Christmas used to be?

It was a train whistling and chugging through snow and darkness to a distant destination—a crowded train filled with others who were homeward bound, too.

The luggage racks brimmed over with packages.

Tired faces brightened as destinations were reached and packages and luggages were gathered up.

IT WAS a war zone, with mud underfoot and bad weather overhead, thousands of miles from home.

It was a lump in the throat and an ache in the heart for the useless bittersweet thoughts that fill a soldier's mind on Christmas Eve.

It was on both sides of the trenches in World War I, when Allied soldiers put up a Christmas tree and were joined by the dreaded Boche in singing Christmas carols—same tune, different language.

It was in the fields and forests of World War II—wherever lonely, frightened men wondered about peace on earth and good will toward men.

IT WAS remote farmhouses, cut off from the world, where members of families lived and died without benefit of any of civilization's graces.

It was austere families that permitted no frivolity and tolerated no warmth of heart.

It was places where Dec. 25 was just another in an endless succession of days.

IT WAS at hearthsides lighted and warmed by love.

It was in the midst of families that made a great occasion of the Greatest Occasion.

It was in churches and chapels and at family altars.

The night before Christmas was in cold bedrooms in big, unheated houses, in snug barns where good husbandmen celebrated Christmas for animals, in honor of the beasts that were in and about the Stable on a Holy Night.

IT WAS in palaces and hovels.

It was in ships at sea and at lonely outposts.

It was in snug houses and windswept fields.

We remember it in all the places we ever were.

It is always the same.

It belongs to each of us, personally.

It is our treasure, and no one can tamper with it.

The world's busiest railway junction is Clapham Junction, on the Southern Region of British Railways, which handles more than 2,500 trains every 24 hours.

The Greatest Story Of All Mankind

By JOHN N. ADAMS
Brush-Moore Special Writer

In the nearly 2,000 years since the birth of the Christ Child, myth and fable have become such a prominent part of Christmas that the original purpose of the celebration is almost lost in obscurity.

One version of the Gospel of St. Luke tells us that "suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, good will toward men."

Today the air is filled with such classics as "Ringo Bells," "Holly Jolly Christmas," "Mistletoe Cha-Cha," "All I Want for Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth," "I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus" and, of course "Rudolf the Red - Nosed Reindeer."

Today, in our cities, we have to make reservations weeks ahead to be assured of a place at a night-club Christmas Eve show.

IN ST. LUKE we are told there was no room at the inn for Joseph and Mary and that the Wise Men brought gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh.

Today, for the child, the toy makers offer plastic warplanes, cannons, machineguns, tanks and other miniature weapons of war. For the person who has everything, there are gold toothpicks, camel saddles, panties for birds and for the fair sex some swaddling mink to wrap in.

In our preoccupation with preparations for Christmas, we have lost sight of the facts and events at the time of Jesus' birth.

It's commonly believed that Joseph was a peasant bachelor, but actually he was a widower between 50 and 55 years of age at the time of his betrothal to Mary, who was still in her teens.

THE "CENSUS" mentioned in St. Luke's gospel, biblical scholars tell us, was really a tax assessment of the individuals capital worth.

Roman commissioners slowly moved through Israel, spending a few months in each community to make a thorough check of all properties and their ownership.

All Jewish people didn't have to travel to certain localities for this assessment; only those who had possessions in the districts where the Roman assessors were working at the time.

This indicates that Joseph went to Bethlehem because he owned enough property there to warrant closing his carpentery shop in Nazareth for about six months to argue his case before the assessors in event he thought he was being overtaxed.

While he was away, Joseph probably left his shop in Nazareth in charge of his sons by his first marriage. There were four sons and three daughters, the oldest son being about 28 years of age.

FROM NAZARETH to Bethlehem is 93 miles of mountainous terrain, in those days a four-day journey. When they found the inn filled, Joseph, being a native of Bethlehem, probably had friends or relatives to whom he could go for assistance in finding lodgings.

Their arrival in Bethlehem was at a time when the pasture lands around Bethlehem were over-grazed and dried up from the summer heat and shepherds had taken their flocks to higher altitudes, where the fields were greener.

In those days, the stable probably included a grotto or cave, which would be cooler and hence more comfortable than a house. It's not improbable Joseph and Mary set up housekeeping in one of these grottoes and Joseph used his carpentry skill to make their six months stay as comfortable as any place in the village. There also was ample time to prepare for the arrival of the child.

A DUTCH AUTHOR, H. W. van der Vaart Smit, in his book, "Born in Bethlehem, Christmas as It Really Was," writes that there was a greater number of Wise Men than the three most popularly mentioned.

He writes, "We are entertained by stories of the three kings, whose names even are known, namely Kaspar, Melchior and Balthasar, and of whom one (Kaspar) is supposed to have been black, in his role as representative of the Negro race."

Mr. van der Vaart Smit, a doctor of theology and former Evangelical minister before his conversion to Catholicism adds; "The number three was derived by analogy with the number of gifts — gold, frankincense and myrrh." It was from his writing also that some of the other information was taken for this piece about Christmas.

Though the Christmas story has been the inspiration for may classics in story and song, the original story of the Christ Child remains as the greatest story of all mankind with its message of Peace on Earth.

Thoughts At Christmas

By Ann Landers

Nine years ago Ann Landers wrote a special column for Christmas. Reader response was overwhelming and she has repeated the column annually, with some topical modifications. This is her Christmas special for 1964.

Friday will be Christmas. All about us we hear talk of peace on earth and good will toward men. Yet we know that in many parts of the world there is no peace and in the hearts of many men there is no good will.

A defeatist philosophy has threatened to capture many of our young people. They complain that civilization is out of joint and threaten to resign from the human race. They resent having to live in a dangerous and untidy world they never made. But what generation ever made the world it had to live in?

And who of us, at one time or another, has not felt like resigning from the human race? What kind of a world spends billions of dollars on missiles and permits children to go to bed hungry?

THESE ARE difficult times in which to live despite "advances" on every side. Everything is pasteurized, homogenized, pressurized and psychoanalyzed. Although each era has presented its specific problems —disease, wars, flood and famine, depression—never before has civilization been faced with annihilation.

Thermonuclear and biological war threatens to hunt down man wherever he is—to suffocate him, incinerate him, infect him or drive him into a radioactive world. Peace is the only answer to the superweapons.

And assuming war is avoided, how safe is this American republic when, in the name of patriotism, groups which encourage suspicion and distrust of our neighbors find growing support? We are concerned because the Russians may place the first man on the moon. Should we not instead be concerned about our failure to live like brothers here on earth?

IT'S FASHIONABLE to be "well adjusted." People are searching in bottles and pills for ammunition with which to fight the daily battle of living. They anesthetize their brains, hoping flight from the problem will banish the problem.

Merchants of gloom and doom blame the sorry state of the world for their anxieties and failures, when real trouble is within. In the words of the late and great David Neiswanger, chairman of the executive committee of the Menninger Foundation:

"If each of us can be helped by science to live a hundred years, what will it profit us if our hates and fears, our loneliness and our remorse will not permit us to enjoy them? What use is an extra year or two to the man who kills what time he has?"

Trouble is the common denominator of living. The aching heart dwells in the mansion as well as the hovel. Sorrow is an inevitable part of living. No magic elixir or miracle pill can protect us against reality forever. Tomorrow always comes.

EACH DAY we decide the direction in which our life will move by selecting one course or another—by making a series of small decisions. No one can make the right decision every time. To fail is no disgrace. The disgrace lies in not getting up to try again.

Letter To Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Though these words have been used for many centuries, they are never old. Each holiday clothes them in new meaning and new hopes. That is because the birth of Christ, and its importance and significance to the world, never grows old.

The coming of the Christ Child is symbolic of the goal of all people — "on earth peace, goodwill toward men." I wonder how many will celebrate Christmas this year with its true purpose in mind.

Christ gave his life for us, and we must consider it a duty to God and humanity to sacrifice ourselves, if necessary, for the good of the world.

The length of man's life is but for a moment in eternity, but during that moment he should strive to perform good acts through the introduction of good principles which will improve conditions for coming generations to be benefited by. By helping to make better conditions for everybody in this life, man makes his own chances better for the next life.

It was Henry VanDyke who said, "Are you willing to stoop down and consider the needs of little children, to remember the weakness and loneliness of people who are growing old, to stop asking how much your friends love you, and to ask yourself if you love them enough; to bear in mind the things that other people have to bear on their hearts, to trim your lamp so that it will give more light and less smoke, and carry it in front so that your shadow will fall behind you; to make a grave for your ugly thoughts and a garden for your kindly feelings, with the gate open; are you willing to do these things even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas."

How completely in accord are these words of VanDyke with the precepts of the Holy Bible! How then can we as Americans who believe in God and worship him as our conscience dictates, help but keep Christmas not just one day, but 365 days a year?

He's On His Way!

By Hal Boyle

"Will Santa Claus really come to our house?" That is the most anxious question in America today. It is answered in the following column, written for parents to read aloud to their children. Since its first appearance in 1948, it has become a scrapbook favorite in many homes.

NORTH POLE (AP) — He's off!

Santa Claus is on his way at last.

The jolly old saint and his famous reindeer are zooming through the arctic skies right now, heading for the American border. He'll reach it tonight.

The Northern Lights switched on to a clear, steady green — the "go-ahead" signal. And the Royal Canadian Mounted Police sent Santa this message:

"We are clearing all air lanes in your path, old boy. There is no speed limit for you tonight. The sky is yours. Go as fast as you like. Good luck!"

And Santa needed that wide clear road in the sky, for his big red sleigh was piled so high with gifts it overflowed. It looked like a flying hayrack as it raced through the cold crisp air.

"Oh, dear, oh, dear," worried Santa, just before the takeoff. "I do hope none of the presents fall out and bean some poor innocent rabbit down below. I believe this must be the heaviest load I've had in 20 years."

"What is he fretting about?" whispered Donder to Vixen. "He's only riding in the sleigh, we have to pull it."

Vixen laughed so hard the bells on the harness tinkled in merry music. And all the other reindeer laughed, too.

As Santa Claus climbed up into the seat of the sleigh, puffing a little because he has gained some weight this winter, three black and white penguins waddled across the snow in front of the reindeer.

"Here, here, get out of the way, please!" said Santa Claus importantly. Then he asked in surprise:

"Why, what are you penguins doing up at the North Pole anyway? You're supposed to be at the South Pole."

"We're on a vacation," said one of the penguins. "We're looking for Florida. Have you see it anywhere?"

"Climb aboard! Climb aboard!" boomed Santa. "I'll drop you off there. But, I must say, this is the first time I ever picked up three hitchhikers wearing tuxedos."

Just then Mrs. Santa Claus came running out waving a long piece of paper.

"You almost forgot your list of good children," she said.

"Never mind," replied Santa. "I don't need it. This year I'm going to give a present to every little boy and girl, good or bad. The bad ones will feel sorry then, because they know they don't deserve a nice present. It'll make 'em try harder to be good next year."

"That isn't according to Hoyle," said Mrs. Claus, who likes to play bridge. "But it does make sense, you old softie."

Santa stood up to crack his whip in the air — the signal to be off. But then he heard a small voice crying:

"Wait! Please wait!"

It was Cluny, Santa's favorite little elf. The other elves gossiped about Cluny and said she was clumsy at making toys. But Santa knew it was only because she was so young. He liked her because she had a good heart.

"Here," said the tiny elf, holding up a small shiny figure.

"What's this? What's this?" grumbled Santa. "You're too late, my pack is already loaded."

"It is only my present to the world," said Cluny. "I made it at night in my room — all by myself."

Santa took the little figure from her hands. It was a beautiful angel with butterfly wings and a robe of purest white. In her hand the angel held a small magic wand.

"It is the angel of peace," explained Cluny.

"Why Cluny!" said Santa, "this is better than all the other gifts put together. I'll see that your angel waves her wand for one day at least over every home in the land."

And he picked up Cluny and gave her a big whisker-tickly kiss on her cheek. Then he picked up his long whip again and cracked it sharply in the frosty air.

The eight reindeer leaped forward and the big sleigh began sliding through the snow. Faster, faster, faster — and then they were off the ground and into the air.

Santa was on his way. And tonight, if you go to bed, he will come to your house, wherever you are.

There should be no other objective when driving an auto. Get there alive. Everything else then will take care of itself.

Fastest And Biggest Planes

By rough estimate, it will cost three-quarters of a billion dollars to get ready to begin to start to commence to build a fleet of hemisphere-spanning military transport airplanes that will be the biggest thing of their kind on earth.

The United States also, it should be remembered, is spending a comparable sum of money to build the prototype of a superbomber that will be the fastest thing of its kind on earth.

There is a faint hope that both these planes may have commercial value after they have been developed as military projects. But as there is in the man-on-the-moon project, there also is a faint doubt hanging over the projects.

The doubt is about the price of progress.

More specifically, the doubt is about progress, itself—what it really is.

Is there not some point in airplane designs, for instance, at which the designer knows there is nothing to be gained and something to be lost by going further?

Are not the airplane industry and its generous benefactor, the United States government, entangled in the same confusion that causes the auto industry to plunge into change for the sake of change, without being able to justify the change on any other grounds?

Does the United States need a bigger transport and a faster bomber, or is the United States going to get these startling improvements because someone wants to prove they can be designed, built, flown and, ultimately, paid for?

Does the United States need a man on the moon?

Don't Add The Temptation

One thing would be more nearly calculated to turn popular opinion against the military adventure in South Viet Nam than anything else that could happen.

Evidence of overt hostility to the United States and its military personnel in South Viet Nam would curdle public sentiment against continuing the operation there.

Foreign policy in this country is determined by what the people will stand for. That is the way representative democracy works.

The American people will not stand for demonstrations against their government by South Vietnamese mobs. They would construe such demonstrations to be a repudiation of everything that has been done so far with their tacit consent.

It would not matter that Congress has declared in a joint resolution that the United States is not in South Viet Nam to save that country but to block the spread of Communist influence in Southeast Asia.

Blocking Communism in that vast area of human restlessness and revolutionary ferment is such an amorphous project it never could be expected to win public support.

It was one thing to justify Vietnamese intervention by saying it was to save a fledging republic. There always is a soft place in U.S. opinion for rescue missions.

It would be something else to try to justify intervention by explaining it really was a military campaign against Asiatic Communism. The grand strategy of such a monumental campaign never would be grasped by Americans in general. And if they did grasp it, they would want to know what many military experts have wanted to know.

Why South Viet Nam? Why a land campaign geared to a tottering government that has shown no signs of being able to save itself? Why a terrain as poorly adapted to reaching a definitive military conclusion as almost any spot that could be picked on the surface of the earth?

No "Yanqui Go Home" demonstrations in South Viet Nam . . . please. It would be too tempting to get out in a hurry.

Relative Punishment For Murder

A British House of Commons vote to abolish capital punishment is no guarantee of agreement in the House of Lords. But the United Kingdom is coming close to a final decision on this touchy issue. The vote was 355-170.

The issue is touchier there than it is here because of traditional British attitudes about the use of the gallows to maintain social control of the lower classes. In the United States, there is no comparable fear of class uprising.

Eight years ago, the House of Commons also voted to abolish capital punishment but was thwarted by the House of Lords through a compromise that retained it for specified crimes: murder during theft, by shooting or causing an explosion, while escaping from legal custody, murder of a policeman or anyone helping a policeman, murder of a prison guard or official, or murder by anyone previously convicted of murder.

This is the same form of compromise proposed in the United States when proposals to abolish capital punishments are made. It is superficially attractive to those who want to stay on the safe side of the issue, but in fact it does not work well. Thus, a stabbing and a shooting are somehow different, though both might be fatal. Murder is not a relative but an absolute crime.

And that, ultimately, becomes the key to the issue—the impossibility of making logical distinctions between crimes of murder. If some murderers are to be treated differently, if capital punishment can be administered only to some and must be withheld from others, it had better be withheld from all murderers.

The United Kingdom is close to reaching that decision.

Christmas Eve

By Truman Twill

The night before Christmas will always be the same.

It belongs to each of us, personally.

For the young, it is a night for expectation.

For the old and the aging, it is a night for remembrance.

WANT TO KNOW how the night before Christmas used to be?

It was a train whistling and chugging through snow and darkness to a distant destination—a crowded train filled with others who were homeward bound, too.

The luggage racks brimmed over with packages.

Tired faces brightened as destinations were reached and packages and luggages were gathered up.

IT WAS a war zone, with mud underfoot and bad weather overhead, thousands of miles from home.

It was a lump in the throat and an ache in the heart for the useless bittersweet thoughts that fill a soldier's mind on Christmas Eve.

It was on both sides of the trenches in World War I, when Allied soldiers put up a Christmas tree and were joined by the dreaded Boche in singing Christmas carols—same tune, different language.

It was in the fields and forests of World War II—wherever lonely, frightened men wondered about peace on earth and good will toward men.

IT WAS remote farmhouses, cut off from the world, where members of families lived and died without benefit of any of civilization's graces.

It was austere families that permitted no frivolity and tolerated no warmth of heart.

It was places where Dec. 25 was just another in an endless succession of days.

IT WAS at hearthsides lighted and warmed by love.

It was in the midst of families that made a great occasion of the Greatest Occasion.

It was in churches and chapels and at family altars.

The night before Christmas was in cold bedrooms in big, unheated houses, in snug barns where good husbandmen celebrated Christmas for animals, in honor of the beasts that were in and about the Stable on a Holy Night.

IT WAS in palaces and hovels.

It was in ships at sea and at lonely outposts.

It was in snug houses and windswept fields.

We remember it in all the places we ever were.

It is always the same.

It belongs to each of us, personally.

It is our treasure, and no one can tamper with it.

The world's busiest railway junction is Clapham Junction, on the Southern Region of British Railways, which handles more than 2,500 trains every 24 hours.

The Greatest Story Of All Mankind

By JOHN N. ADAMS
Brush-Moore Special Writer

In the nearly 2,000 years since the birth of the Christ Child, myth and fable have become such a prominent part of Christmas that the original purpose of the celebration is almost lost in obscurity.

One version of the Gospel of St. Luke tells us that "suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, good will toward men."

Today the air is filled with such classics as "Ringo Bells," "Holly Jolly Christmas," "Mistletoe Cha-Cha," "All I Want for Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth," "I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus" and, of course "Rudolf the Red - Nosed Reindeer."

Today, in our cities, we have to make reservations weeks ahead to be assured of a place at a night-club Christmas Eve show.

IN ST. LUKE we are told there was no room at the inn for Joseph and Mary and that the Wise Men brought gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh.

Today, for the child, the toy makers offer plastic warplanes, cannons, machineguns, tanks and other miniature weapons of war. For the person who has everything, there are gold toothpicks, camel saddles, panties for birds and for the fair sex some swaddling mink to wrap in.

In our preoccupation with preparations for Christmas, we have lost sight of the facts and events at the time of Jesus' birth.

It's commonly believed that Joseph was a peasant bachelor, but actually he was a widower between 50 and 55 years of age at the time of his betrothal to Mary, who was still in her teens.

THE "CENSUS" mentioned in St. Luke's gospel, biblical scholars tell us, was really a tax assessment of the individuals capital worth.

Roman commissioners slowly moved through Israel, spending a few months in each community to make a thorough check of all properties and their ownership.

All Jewish people didn't have to travel to certain localities for this assessment; only those who had possessions in the districts where the Roman assessors were working at the time.

This indicates that Joseph went to Bethlehem because he owned enough property there to warrant closing his carpentery shop in Nazareth for about six months to argue his case before the assessors in event he thought he was being overtaxed.

While he was away, Joseph probably left his shop in Nazareth in charge of his sons by his first marriage. There were four sons and three daughters, the oldest son being about 28 years of age.

FROM NAZARETH to Bethlehem is 93 miles of mountainous terrain, in those days a four-day journey. When they found the inn filled, Joseph, being a native of Bethlehem, probably had friends or relatives to whom he could go for assistance in finding lodgings.

Their arrival in Bethlehem was at a time when the pasture lands around Bethlehem were over-grazed and dried up from the summer heat and shepherds had taken their flocks to higher altitudes, where the fields were greener.

In those days, the stable probably included a grotto or cave, which would be cooler and hence more comfortable than a house. It's not improbable Joseph and Mary set up housekeeping in one of these grottoes and Joseph used his carpentry skill to make their six months stay as comfortable as any place in the village. There also was ample time to prepare for the arrival of the child.

A DUTCH AUTHOR, H. W. van der Vaart Smit, in his book, "Born in Bethlehem, Christmas as It Really Was," writes that there was a greater number of Wise Men than the three most popularly mentioned.

He writes, "We are entertained by stories of the three kings, whose names even are known, namely Kaspar, Melchior and Balthasar, and of whom one (Kaspar) is supposed to have been black, in his role as representative of the Negro race."

Mr. van der Vaart Smit, a doctor of theology and former Evangelical minister before his conversion to Catholicism adds; "The number three was derived by analogy with the number of gifts — gold, frankincense and myrrh." It was from his writing also that some of the other information was taken for this piece about Christmas.

Though the Christmas story has been the inspiration for may classics in story and song, the original story of the Christ Child remains as the greatest story of all mankind with its message of Peace on Earth.

Thoughts At Christmas

By Ann Landers

Nine years ago Ann Landers wrote a special column for Christmas. Reader response was overwhelming and she has repeated the column annually, with some topical modifications. This is her Christmas special for 1964.

Friday will be Christmas. All about us we hear talk of peace on earth and good will toward men. Yet we know that in many parts of the world there is no peace and in the hearts of many men there is no good will.

A defeatist philosophy has threatened to capture many of our young people. They complain that civilization is out of joint and threaten to resign from the human race. They resent having to live in a dangerous and untidy world they never made. But what generation ever made the world it had to live in?

And who of us, at one time or another, has not felt like resigning from the human race? What kind of a world spends billions of dollars on missiles and permits children to go to bed hungry?

THESE ARE difficult times in which to live despite "advances" on every side. Everything is pasteurized, homogenized, pressurized and psychoanalyzed. Although each era has presented its specific problems —disease, wars, flood and famine, depression—never before has civilization been faced with annihilation.

Thermonuclear and biological war threatens to hunt down man wherever he is—to suffocate him, incinerate him, infect him or drive him into a radioactive world. Peace is the only answer to the superweapons.

And assuming war is avoided, how safe is this American republic when, in the name of patriotism, groups which encourage suspicion and distrust of our neighbors find growing support? We are concerned because the Russians may place the first man on the moon. Should we not instead be concerned about our failure to live like brothers here on earth?

IT'S FASHIONABLE to be "well adjusted." People are searching in bottles and pills for ammunition with which to fight the daily battle of living. They anesthetize their brains, hoping flight from the problem will banish the problem.

Merchants of gloom and doom blame the sorry state of the world for their anxieties and failures, when real trouble is within. In the words of the late and great David Neiswanger, chairman of the executive committee of the Menninger Foundation:

"If each of us can be helped by science to live a hundred years, what will it profit us if our hates and fears, our loneliness and our remorse will not permit us to enjoy them? What use is an extra year or two to the man who kills what time he has?"

Trouble is the common denominator of living. The aching heart dwells in the mansion as well as the hovel. Sorrow is an inevitable part of living. No magic elixir or miracle pill can protect us against reality forever. Tomorrow always comes.

EACH DAY we decide the direction in which our life will move by selecting one course or another—by making a series of small decisions. No one can make the right decision every time. To fail is no disgrace. The disgrace lies in not getting up to try again.

Letter To Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Though these words have been used for many centuries, they are never old. Each holiday clothes them in new meaning and new hopes. That is because the birth of Christ, and its importance and significance to the world, never grows old.

The coming of the Christ Child is symbolic of the goal of all people — "on earth peace, goodwill toward men." I wonder how many will celebrate Christmas this year with its true purpose in mind.

Christ gave his life for us, and we must consider it a duty to God and humanity to sacrifice ourselves, if necessary, for the good of the world.

The length of man's life is but for a moment in eternity, but during that moment he should strive to perform good acts through the introduction of good principles which will improve conditions for coming generations to be benefited by. By helping to make better conditions for everybody in this life, man makes his own chances better for the next life.

It was Henry VanDyke who said, "Are you willing to stoop down and consider the needs of little children, to remember the weakness and loneliness of people who are growing old, to stop asking how much your friends love you, and to ask yourself if you love them enough; to bear in mind the things that other people have to bear on their hearts, to trim your lamp so that it will give more light and less smoke, and carry it in front so that your shadow will fall behind you; to make a grave for your ugly thoughts and a garden for your kindly feelings, with the gate open; are you willing to do these things even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas."

How completely in accord are these words of VanDyke with the precepts of the Holy Bible! How then can we as Americans who believe in God and worship him as our conscience dictates, help but keep Christmas not just one day, but 365 days a year?

He's On His Way!

By Hal Boyle

"Will Santa Claus really come to our house?" That is the most anxious question in America today. It is answered in the following column, written for parents to read aloud to their children. Since its first appearance in 1948, it has become a scrapbook favorite in many homes.

NORTH POLE (AP) — He's off!

Santa Claus is on his way at last.

The jolly old saint and his famous reindeer are zooming through the arctic skies right now, heading for the American border. He'll reach it tonight.

The Northern Lights switched on to a clear, steady green — the "go-ahead" signal. And the Royal Canadian Mounted Police sent Santa this message:

"We are clearing all air lanes in your path, old boy. There is no speed limit for you tonight. The sky is yours. Go as fast as you like. Good luck!"

And Santa needed that wide clear road in the sky, for his big red sleigh was piled so high with gifts it overflowed. It looked like a flying hayrack as it raced through the cold crisp air.

"Oh, dear, oh, dear," worried Santa, just before the takeoff. "I do hope none of the presents fall out and bean some poor innocent rabbit down below. I believe this must be the heaviest load I've had in 20 years."

"What is he fretting about?" whispered Donder to Vixen. "He's only riding in the sleigh, we have to pull it."

Vixen laughed so hard the bells on the harness tinkled in merry music. And all the other reindeer laughed, too.

As Santa Claus climbed up into the seat of the sleigh, puffing a little because he has gained some weight this winter, three black and white penguins waddled across the snow in front of the reindeer.

"Here, here, get out of the way, please!" said Santa Claus importantly. Then he asked in surprise:

"Why, what are you penguins doing up at the North Pole anyway? You're supposed to be at the South Pole."

"We're on a vacation," said one of the penguins. "We're looking for Florida. Have you see it anywhere?"

"Climb aboard! Climb aboard!" boomed Santa. "I'll drop you off there. But, I must say, this is the first time I ever picked up three hitchhikers wearing tuxedos."

Just then Mrs. Santa Claus came running out waving a long piece of paper.

"You almost forgot your list of good children," she said.

"Never mind," replied Santa. "I don't need it. This year I'm going to give a present to every little boy and girl, good or bad. The bad ones will feel sorry then, because they know they don't deserve a nice present. It'll make 'em try harder to be good next year."

"That isn't according to Hoyle," said Mrs. Claus, who likes to play bridge. "But it does make sense, you old softie."

Santa stood up to crack his whip in the air — the signal to be off. But then he heard a small voice crying:

"Wait! Please wait!"

It was Cluny, Santa's favorite little elf. The other elves gossiped about Cluny and said she was clumsy at making toys. But Santa knew it was only because she was so young. He liked her because she had a good heart.

"Here," said the tiny elf, holding up a small shiny figure.

"What's this? What's this?" grumbled Santa. "You're too late, my pack is already loaded."

"It is only my present to the world," said Cluny. "I made it at night in my room — all by myself."

Santa took the little figure from her hands. It was a beautiful angel with butterfly wings and a robe of purest white. In her hand the angel held a small magic wand.

"It is the angel of peace," explained Cluny.

"Why Cluny!" said Santa, "this is better than all the other gifts put together. I'll see that your angel waves her wand for one day at least over every home in the land."

And he picked up Cluny and gave her a big whisker-tickly kiss on her cheek. Then he picked up his long whip again and cracked it sharply in the frosty air.

The eight reindeer leaped forward and the big sleigh began sliding through the snow. Faster, faster, faster — and then they were off the ground and into the air.

Santa was on his way. And tonight, if you go to bed, he will come to your house, wherever you are.

Suit By Firm Cites Ohio Discount Store

CLEVELAND (AP)—A New Jersey manufacturer has filed suit in common pleas court to stop its products from being sold at cut-rate prices by a Cleveland discount drug store gain.

The action was brought Wednesday by Shulton, Inc., of Clifton, N. J., against the Revco drugstores, Standard Drug Co., and seven affiliated firms. The New Jersey firm, which manufactures and distributes toiletries and cosmetics, alleged the stores had entered into an agreement under Ohio's fair-trade law to abide by minimum prices established by Shulton. The suit contends, however, that the stores refuse to abide by the agreement.

New Hancock Sheriff Picks Deputy Staff

A staff of deputies appointed by Joe Rodak, sheriff - elect and Anthony Pirraglia, assessor-elect, were approved Wednesday by Hancock County commissioners.

Seven new deputy sheriffs, all from Weirton, were appointed by Rodak, who also reappointed six holdovers from the staff of Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny.

Pirraglia dropped one full - time employe of his office and reduced the number of field deputies.

The commissioners also scheduled a special meeting Tuesday to approve the appointments of George Konchar, county clerk - elect.

Konchar notified the commissioners that he expects to be released today from a Pittsburgh hospital, where he has been recuperating from abdominal surgery, and might possibly be able to attend Tuesday's meeting.

Reappointed to the $520 monthly jobs as deputy sheriffs were Irwin Higgs of Chester, John Rofaro and Clovis Glover of New Cumberland and Thomas Laynski, Nick Muscaro and James Young of Weirton.

Young has served as a deputy for nearly 25 years under five sheriffs.

Rodak originally submitted a list of 18 names and requested that 16 be appointed, but the commissioners directed him to appoint 13 as provided in the sheriff's budget and has been customary under Manypenny.

Also included in the list of 18 names which Rodak turned in to the commissioners were Roger Cline and Howard D. Simth, both of Newell, Jack Thayer of New Cumberland, and Ed Bailey and Bill Riddle of Weirton. Cline and Riddle presently are deputies.

When the sheriff-elect resubmitted a list of 13 names, Smith was among those named.

After a closed - door discussion by the commissioners, Smith was dropped and Lalich was named. No reason was given for dropping Smith.

Miss Helen Cuppy was reappointed chief deputy in the assessor's office at a salary of $520 a month.

Pirraglia also renamed Mrs. Dorothy Thomas, who will receive $325, and Mrs. Jean Clark at a salary of $240.

Miss Janet Wilson, a full-time employe under the present assessor, Arnold Anderson, was not reappointed.

Pirraglia said she will remain through January as an extra stenographer to help type the assessment books.

Field deputies appointed were Paul Cowey of Chester for Grant District at $100 a month; Mrs. Elsie Glover of New Cumberland for Clay District, $150 a month, and Lou Serra, John Kallas of Weirton, $200 a month, and John Sorrenti of Weirton, $150 monthly. Suit By Firm Cites Ohio Discount Store

CLEVELAND (AP)—A New Jersey manufacturer has filed suit in common pleas court to stop its products from being sold at cut-rate prices by a Cleveland discount drug store gain.

The action was brought Wednesday by Shulton, Inc., of Clifton, N. J., against the Revco drugstores, Standard Drug Co., and seven affiliated firms. The New Jersey firm, which manufactures and distributes toiletries and cosmetics, alleged the stores had entered into an agreement under Ohio's fair-trade law to abide by minimum prices established by Shulton. The suit contends, however, that the stores refuse to abide by the agreement.

New Hancock Sheriff Picks Deputy Staff

A staff of deputies appointed by Joe Rodak, sheriff - elect and Anthony Pirraglia, assessor-elect, were approved Wednesday by Hancock County commissioners.

Seven new deputy sheriffs, all from Weirton, were appointed by Rodak, who also reappointed six holdovers from the staff of Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny.

Pirraglia dropped one full - time employe of his office and reduced the number of field deputies.

The commissioners also scheduled a special meeting Tuesday to approve the appointments of George Konchar, county clerk - elect.

Konchar notified the commissioners that he expects to be released today from a Pittsburgh hospital, where he has been recuperating from abdominal surgery, and might possibly be able to attend Tuesday's meeting.

Reappointed to the $520 monthly jobs as deputy sheriffs were Irwin Higgs of Chester, John Rofaro and Clovis Glover of New Cumberland and Thomas Laynski, Nick Muscaro and James Young of Weirton.

Young has served as a deputy for nearly 25 years under five sheriffs.

Rodak originally submitted a list of 18 names and requested that 16 be appointed, but the commissioners directed him to appoint 13 as provided in the sheriff's budget and has been customary under Manypenny.

Also included in the list of 18 names which Rodak turned in to the commissioners were Roger Cline and Howard D. Simth, both of Newell, Jack Thayer of New Cumberland, and Ed Bailey and Bill Riddle of Weirton. Cline and Riddle presently are deputies.

When the sheriff-elect resubmitted a list of 13 names, Smith was among those named.

After a closed - door discussion by the commissioners, Smith was dropped and Lalich was named. No reason was given for dropping Smith.

Miss Helen Cuppy was reappointed chief deputy in the assessor's office at a salary of $520 a month.

Pirraglia also renamed Mrs. Dorothy Thomas, who will receive $325, and Mrs. Jean Clark at a salary of $240.

Miss Janet Wilson, a full-time employe under the present assessor, Arnold Anderson, was not reappointed.

Pirraglia said she will remain through January as an extra stenographer to help type the assessment books.

said he couldn't give precise figures. Spending this fiscal year is estimated at $97.2 billion.

The President has been discussing the budget with various Cabinet officials here this week. He had no official appointments today and planned to spend a relaxing day-before-Christmas with his family at their ranch home.

One of Johnson's decisions Wednesday was to ask for the higher rates on second and third-class mail. Second-class mail includes newspaper and magazines, third-class consists mainly of advertisingmatter.

In announcing the rate increase proposal at a news conference in Austin, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski said the requested increase would be modest.

Gronouski said Johnson also would ask for legislation to require volume users of first class mail to sort letters by ZIP code before mailing. He said this also would be required of second and third class volume mailers, but legislation is unnecessary.

Gronouski said the Post Office Department plans to hire more employes to cut down excessive overtime and increase efficiency. He did not say how big the increase would be.

The postmaster general also said the closing down of the smallest post offices — fourth class — would be stepped up. In recent years these offices have been closed at the rate of 400 to 500 a year.

Gronouski said offices would be closed only in cases where equal or better services could be provided by rural or star routes.

I picked up the Christmas cards I had received. . . .

There was a card from Mr. Yen, a Vietnamese combat photographer. 'Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year' written in Vietnamese, English and French. Well, you can't go wrong there. And engraved was a picture showing Yen with his camera over his shoulder wading waist deep across a stream alongside a Vietnamese rifle squad.

And a card from each one of our four little ones. And then there was the one card from you — the gal who made it all possible. The same hair, the same eyes, the same mouth.

I got to feeling pretty low. So I decided to turn in for the night.

I started getting dressed for bed when I noticed an unmarked envelope on my pillow. The houseboy must have put it there while I was at the party.

Scrawled in a halting handwriting were the words: "You have left your country and your family to come here and to stand with us in the fight for freedom. We are very grateful to you. On the occasion of Christmas and the New Year we wish you a good year, good health to your family and that our combat obtains victory."

It was signed Yung, a student of Gia Long secondary school.

I felt better. I turned out the lights and opened the curtain. I looked up into the moonlit sky. In the distance the artillery boomed in the damp, still air.

Yes, I can wait until Christmas to open my present.

Love, Don.

In South Korea, another divided nation, U.S. servicemen will light a 20-foot cross on a hill overlooking Communist positions across the demilitarized zone.

In West Germany, Lt. Gen. William W. Quinn of the U.S. 7th Army urged his men to pause and "reflect upon the ancient Christian message of peace on earth and good will toward our fellow man."

The U.S. Army's Berlin brigade is playing host to more than 2,000 needy persons in West Berlin. In return, more than 200 American soldiers have been invited to share traditional roast goose in Berlin homes.

Thousands of West Berliners passed through the Berlin wall to spend the holiday with relatives in the Communist sector of the divided city. The Communists permit the crossing by special agreement with the West Berlin government.

In the holy city of Jerusalem, the wall between Jordan and Israel opened today to let Christian Arabs from Israel join their families in Jordan for Christmas. As dawn broke, a small nun — the first visitor — walked through the Mandelbaum Gate. Some 4,500 are expected to cross in all.

There was no sign of tension at the gate despite a new clash Wednesday between Jordanians and Israelis.

In West Germany, Lt. Gen. William W. Quinn of the U.S. 7th Army urged his men to pause and "reflect upon the ancient Christian message of peace on earth and good will toward our fellow man."

The U.S. Army's Berlin brigade is playing host to more than 2,000 needy persons in West Berlin. In return, more than 200 American soldiers have been invited to share traditional roast goose in Berlin homes.

In the holy city of Jerusalem, the wall between Jordan and Israel opened today to let Christian Arabs from Israel join their families in Jordan for Christmas. As dawn broke, a small nun — the first visitor — walked through the Mandelbaum Gate. Some 4,500 are expected to cross in all.

There was no sign of tension at the gate despite a new clash Wednesday between Jordanians and Israelis.

The Red Cross beefed up its forces in key areas to supply clothing, bedding and food. Police from as far south as San Francisco were flown in to relieve exhausted sheriff's deputies in northwestern Humboldt County.

The aircraft carrier Bennington steamed toward Eureka today to add its 20 helicopters to those of the Coast Guard.

A large food chain ordered 40,000 pounds of canned goods and produce flown from San Francisco to Eureka and promised unlimited credit to victims.

A 20-man search party plowed through dense underbrush 20 miles north of Eureka toward the wreckage of a Coast Guard helicopter downed Tuesday.

A search plane spotted the wreckage late Wednesday, but there was no indication that the three crewmen had survived.

Only one known death has been reported in the state, and that came Tuesday when a Montana man's car plunged off a bridge into a river.

Yuba City, in the area where 38 persons drowned in the 1955 Christmas Eve flood, was at the brink of evacuation Wednesday as the Feather River rose 76 feet above its bed. But a break in the storm lessened the threat and the city's 11,000 residents stood fast although warned they might have to leave if the storm worsens.

At Yosemite National Park 800 persons prepared for an extended stay after all roads became submerged by water and logs.

In Oregon, Gov. Mark Hatfield warned that the state "still faces critical times in the next 36 to 48 hours" despite a gradual receding of most flood-swollen rivers.

At Grant's Pass the Rogue River dropped eight feet in 14 hours but new rains left nearby residents without hope of relief from flooding.

National Guard and Air Force personnel were sent to North Albany 25 miles south of Salem early today to begin evacuating some 200 families.

In the Oregon state capital the flooding Mill Creek endangered a hospital and 100 patients were among the thousands forced to higher ground.

The death toll climbed to 10 when a car plunged 140 feet off a washed-out bridge over the John Day River, 120 miles east of Portland. It carried two Rufus, Ore., iron workers to their deaths.

Near the Washington-Oregon border 300 persons were stranded for the second day aboard two trains when slides blocked the tracks. The Air Force airlifted 1,000 pounds of food to the scene. Railroad officials could not say when the passengers might be rescued.

Eastern Washington continued to bear the brunt of the flooding. At Asotin on the Washington-Idaho border where Asotin Creek overflowed 100 persons were evacuated. Walla Walla County commissioners declared that a disaster area.

In Idaho, a combined bulldozer-helicopter operation rescued 48 motorists and truckers stranded for 24 hours between two huge snow slides. They escaped without injury, but a bulldozer operator, John Nock, 37, of Grangeville, Idaho, perished in a fresh slide.

Reno, Nev., escaped what residents feared would be its most disastrous flood when rain halted early in the day and the Truckee River's rush through the city slowed somewhat.

that Khanh planned to acquiesce to U.S. demands that the military end interference in the civilian government.

U.S. policy makers in Saigon reportedly feel that Khanh should step down because they feel renewed cooperation with him probably is impossible.

Khanh was clearly working to achieve Taylor's recall.

Taylor was known to believe that while the crisis should be settled as quickly as possible, the United States must make a firm and determined stand against military interference in the civilian government. U.S. officials contend that the generals have been unwilling to assume the responsibilities of government but insist on the right to overturn the government when things do not go as they wish.

In Washington, sources in President Johnson's administration voiced hope that the semi-coup by Khanh's young generals would turn out to be only a temporary setback in the long search for an effective government in South Viet Nam.

The United States appeared to be pinning slender hopes on action by civilian Premier Tran Van Huong, whom the young generals left in office when they arrested most of the legislative council and other politicians last Sunday.

Three courses appeared to be open to Huong:

1. He could condemn the military purge and its decrees as illegal and threaten to resign if the military did not retreat;

2. He could act as if the purge hadn't happened and quietly re-establish the High National Council, as the legislature is called;

3. He could try to muddle through, making his peace with the military somehow.

Wellsville Youth At Oberlin Helps Dixie Church Project

A Wellsville youth is one of more than 35 students, primarily from Oberlin College, who are rebuilding a church that was destroyed in Mississippi after a civil rights rally of the Freedom Democratic party the night of Oct. 30.

He is Michael Welch, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Welch, 739 Main St.

The group started arriving last weekend in Ripley, Miss., to rebuild the Antioch Missionary Baptist Church, in the back country about seven miles from town.

The students are accompanied by several faculty members, their wives and some Oberlin townspeople. An Oberlin contractor also has given up his holiday period to supervise the construction.

The group hopes to rebuild the church and have the roof up in time for services on Christmas Day. Negro church members are working side by side with the volunteers. The church was burned to the ground.

Students from other colleges have joined the group in the past few days. The cost of the rebuilding is estimated at $10,000. Some $4,500 had been raised by the time the group left Oberlin. This was collected from Thanksgiving Day offerings and a one-meal fast by more than 1,300 Oberlin students.

Welch's father is chairman of the Wellsville Civil Service Commission and his mother is Mrs. Helen Welch, high school librarian.

Scenes of the project were televised nationally Tuesday night. Welch appeared in the film wearing a football jersey with the number "22" on the front.

MICHAEL WELCH

He is a sophomore at Oberlin, majoring in history. He went to Ripley with the first carload. They left early Saturday and arrived there Sunday about noon.

He and the others underwent several orientation meetings to acquaint them with what to expect.

All are paying their own expenses and are working, not demonstrating.

Mrs. Welch said today she has not yet heard from him. She said he is expected home one or two days before the opening of school. The group plans to spend the entire holiday working on the project.

Christmas Services Planned In Church Rising On Ashes

RIPLEY, Miss. (AP) — There will be biracial Christmas services Friday in the raw shell of a new church rising on the ashes of one burned in racial anger.

"We won't have it finished and we might not have a roof," said Prof. Paul F. Schmidt, "but we're going to have two services Christmas Day, no matter what."

The professor headed the group of 31 Oberlin (Ohio) College students who formed the "Carpenters for Christmas" church rebuilding project.

The Antioch Baptist Church went up in flames shortly after it was used for a rally of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party. It is one of at least 30 destroyed by fire or explosion in Mississippi last summer. The site is about six miles east of Ripley.

Two walls are standing and others are taking rapid shape. But Schmidt does not expect to complete the work before the group must return to Oberlin Jan. 2. They travel by car.

"It may be," said Schmidt, "that five or six of us might have to come back later to do some of the brick work."

"We can't hope to have the roof on until sometime next week but we've got the backbone of the thing built," he added.

The Christmas Day service will be open to all races, said Schmidt.

"I don't expect any trouble because of this," he said. "We have been working together on the project all week and nothing has happened yet."

Wellsville Youth At Oberlin Helps Dixie Church Project

A Wellsville youth is one of more than 35 students, primarily from Oberlin College, who are rebuilding a church that was destroyed in Mississippi after a civil rights rally of the Freedom Democratic party the night of Oct. 30.

He is Michael Welch, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Welch, 739 Main St.

The group started arriving last weekend in Ripley, Miss., to rebuild the Antioch Missionary Baptist Church, in the back country about seven miles from town.

The students are accompanied by several faculty members, their wives and some Oberlin townspeople. An Oberlin contractor also has given up his holiday period to supervise the construction.

The group hopes to rebuild the church and have the roof up in time for services on Christmas Day. Negro church members are working side by side with the volunteers. The church was burned to the ground.

Students from other colleges have joined the group in the past few days. The cost of the rebuilding is estimated at $10,000. Some $4,500 had been raised by the time the group left Oberlin. This was collected from Thanksgiving Day offerings and a one-meal fast by more than 1,300 Oberlin students.

Welch's father is chairman of the Wellsville Civil Service Commission and his mother is Mrs. Helen Welch, high school librarian.

Scenes of the project were televised nationally Tuesday night. Welch appeared in the film wearing a football jersey with the number "22" on the front.

MICHAEL WELCH

He is a sophomore at Oberlin, majoring in history. He went to Ripley with the first carload. They left early Saturday and arrived there Sunday about noon.

He and the others underwent several orientation meetings to acquaint them with what to expect.

All are paying their own expenses and are working, not demonstrating.

Mrs. Welch said today she has not yet heard from him. She said he is expected home one or two days before the opening of school. The group plans to spend the entire holiday working on the project.

Christmas Services Planned In Church Rising On Ashes

RIPLEY, Miss. (AP) — There will be biracial Christmas services Friday in the raw shell of a new church rising on the ashes of one burned in racial anger.

"We won't have it finished and we might not have a roof," said Prof. Paul F. Schmidt, "but we're going to have two services Christmas Day, no matter what."

The professor headed the group of 31 Oberlin (Ohio) College students who formed the "Carpenters for Christmas" church rebuilding project.

The Antioch Baptist Church went up in flames shortly after it was used for a rally of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party. It is one of at least 30 destroyed by fire or explosion in Mississippi last summer. The site is about six miles east of Ripley.

Two walls are standing and others are taking rapid shape. But Schmidt does not expect to complete the work before the group must return to Oberlin Jan. 2. They travel by car.

"It may be," said Schmidt, "that five or six of us might have to come back later to do some of the brick work."

"We can't hope to have the roof on until sometime next week but we've got the backbone of the thing built," he added.

The Christmas Day service will be open to all races, said Schmidt.

"I don't expect any trouble because of this," he said. "We have been working together on the project all week and nothing has happened yet."

Recommendations Due Jan. 25

Air Reserve, Air Guard Merger Will Be Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Force recommendations on merging the Air Reserve and the Air National Guard are due Jan. 25, it was learned today.

This is only six days before retirement of Gen. Curtis E. LeMay as Air Force chief of staff. LeMay is reputed to favor combining the 72,000-man Air Guard into the 182,000-man Air Reserve.

But there appears to be considerable high-level sentiment to accomplish the merger in the other direction — to eliminate the Air Reserve and leave only the Air Guard.

This was the pattern set for the Army on Dec. 12 when Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced that the Army National Guard would increase to 550,000 men by absorbing about half of the 300,000-man organized Army Reserve. The Army Reserve will disappear, except for a reinforcement pool.

Sources said studies on unifying the Air Reserve and the Air Guard still are not finished.

The Reserve Officers Association, which is fighting obliteration of the Army Reserve and the Air Force Reserve, has contended that the administration is waiting for LeMay to retire before acting.

Informed authorities challenged this, saying that LeMay had informed top officials that it would be impossible to finish the Reserve-Guard studies by Jan. 1 and that LeMay himself held to the Jan. 25 objective date.

The sources said the studies were ordered five or six months ago and the deadline assigned at that time.

At LeMay's insistence, a board which determines Air Reserve policy decided about a year ago that the Reserve and the Air Guard should be combined and that one organization should remain. The board did not take a position on whether the Reserve or the Guard should survive.

Officials who have been working on this problem said they had been unable to detect from LeMay any leanings either way.

The Air National Guard earned considerable praise during the Berlin crisis when it sent 218 fighters and reconnaissance jets, plus their supporting elements, to France and Germany within a month of being called into federal service in October 1961.

McNamara's emphasis, so far as the Guard and Reserve are concerned, is on quick reaction.

The Air Guard and the Air Reserve are in a somewhat different position from their Army counterparts. All Air Reserve and Guard units are considered high-priority outfits and are equipped and staffed accordingly. The Army Guard and Reserve have considerable numbers of men in low-priority units which, under present circumstances, would not be ready for use in much less than a year after being mustered into federal service.

The entire 72,000-man Air Guard is drawing drill pay and training regularly. Only 54,000 Air Force ready reservists are in the same status. Another 128,000 are in the ready reserve but do not get drill pay.

The Washington National Monument is a tapering shaft or obelisk of white marble, 555 feet in height and 55 feet square at the base.

and fire shot up through the structure, gutting the building.

The explosion occurred just before 6 p.m.

The Viet Cong had been expected to attack in Saigon during the Christmas weekend. Intelligence sources said three Viet Cong battalions were massed in the area of the Saigon airport for a mortar attack there. Security forces were on a full alert around the airport.

Peter Kalischer of the Columbia Broadcasting System reported from Saigon that the bomb was a 100-pound device set off in a car parked under the officers' quarters, known as the Brink Hotel.

Kalischer said there were reports a second bomb had been detonated at the airport headquarters of a U.S. signal battalion.

Security precautions were tightened at the quarters of U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam.

Use Of Coffee Cup As Weapon Is Costly

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Circuit Judge John U. Bird ruled that a coffee cup is not a deadly weapon. But using one for a weapon can still prove costly.

Charles Robinson, 26, formerly of St. Petersburg, was charged with aggravated assault (assault with a deadly weapon), following a fight in a restaurant in which he hit three men with a cup. The judge found Robinson guilty of a lesser charge of assault and battery.

Judge Bird upheld the defense contention that a deadly weapon is a gun, knife, or some other heavy or sharp object that obviously can cause death.

But he fined Robinson $900 on the lesser charge.

Abel accepted the nomination at USW Local 1123's Golden Lodge, which he helped organize 28 years ago. Election to a four-year term in the $50,000-a-year president post will be by secret ballot Feb. 9.

Firm Sells Hotel

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Securities Corp. sold the 42-year-old Hotel Antlers, this city's largest, to Lorain Inc. Wednesday for an undisclosed price. The Lorain development firm did not give its reason for buying the hotel but indicated there would be no change in the hotel operation at the present.

Nasser Tells U.S. To Take Aid And Go . .

CAIRO (AP) — Relations between the United States and the United Arab Republic deteriorated further today in the wake of a speech by President Gamal Abdel Nasser telling America in effect to take its aid and "go to hell."

Speaking in Port Said Wednesday, Nasser accused U.S. Ambassador Lucius Battle of trying to put economic pressure on Egypt and declared:

"Anyone who does not like our attitude can drink from the sea. And if the Mediterranean is not big enough, we will give him the Red Sea to drink, too."

To "drink from the sea" is the Egyptian slang equivalent of to "go to the devil or "go to hell."

No official U.S. comment was available immediately in Washington. U.S. officials indicated, however, that a request by Nasser for $35 million worth of surplus food would be shelved because of his aid to the Congolese rebels.

Nasser's outburst apparently was touched off by U.S. accusations that he is aiding the Congolese rebels and intimations that U.S. aid would be curtailed because of this.

Speaking to a rally celebrating the end of the 1956 Israeli-British-French invasion of the Suez, Nasser declared:

"We have sent arms to the Congolese rebels and we will continue to send arms because the rebels need them and need the support of the honest nations of the world. The U.A.R. cannot watch aggression against the Congo and stand handcuffed.

"We do not accept any words against us and we will cut off the tongue of anyone who uses them. We do not need their money."

Relations between the United States and the U.A.R. worsed when a mob sacked the U.S. Information agency library in Cairo last month in protest against the American-Belgian mission in the Congo. Last week an American oil company's plane was shot down by the Egyptian air force as it was flying from Jordan to Libya, and the two crewmen were killed.

The United States has been supplying the U.A.R. about $140 million a year in food under a three-year agreement that expires next June 30. Nasser's government had asked for an additional $35 million worth for the coming year to ease a serious shortage.

Nasser said Ambassador Battle, in a call on the U.A.R. minister of supplies Tuesday, "stayed only two minutes" and "said he could not possibly speak about (supplies) because the conduct of the Egyptians was not good."

"If the Americans want to give us aid at the price of dominating our policy," Nasser told the cheering crowd, "I say we are sorry. We are ready to cut our rations and minimize our daily consumption to keep our independence."

He called the U.S.-Belgian rescue operation in the Congo "aggression similar to the 1956 attack on Suez" and said his government cannot recognize Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe as "the legitimate representative of the Nongolese people."

County Deputies Aid In Manhunt

LISBON — Donald Small, 20, of Carroll County, who escaped from Mansfield Reformatory last month while serving time for burglary, was captured Wednesday at a relative's home after a widespread manhunt in which Columbiana and Carroll County sheriff's deputies joined.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan said Small was apprehended at the relative's home in Carroll County by Sheriff Dean Yeager of Carroll County and Deputy James Gause of Columbiana County. He narrowly evaded capture at a roadblock earlier.

VanFossan said the hunt began after Small called his wife in Carroll County from New Garden in western Columbiana County and said he was en route home. The wife notified Sheriff Yeager, who relayed the information to Sheriff VanFossan. VanFossan sent cruisers to aid in the search and notified constables in the area.

At one time during the hunt, sheriff's deputies learned Small had obtained a ride in New Garden in an auto which was headed for Hanoverton. Later, deputies spotted Small hitch-hiking in Carroll County, but he fled through some woods and escaped. He then was apprehended at the relative's home. Yeager said Small will be returned to the reformatory.

New Pact Ends Strike At Jersey Ware Plant

Members of Local Union 184 have accepted terms of a new contract and ended a strike which began Oct. 7 against the Trenton (N.J.) Plant of Lenox, Inc., the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today.

The biggest stumbling block was the company's reluctance to grant severance pay to workers who decided not to transfer to another Lenox plant in Pomona, N. J., when the Trenton facility is closed at the end of the year, the IBOP said. However, the issue finally was resolved.

Lump sum severance pay was agreed upon, based on years of service, the union said. All Trenton employes have been offered work at the Pomona plant, it added, and the company has indicated it will assume some of the moving costs.

Fulbright Says He No Longer Will Steer Foreign Aid Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., says he will no longer steer the administration's foreign aid bills through the Senate, The Washington Post reported today.

Fulbright, as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, has borne the major responsibility in the Senate for legislation on the nation's international undertakings, including military and economic aid to other countries.

The Arkansas Democrat said in an interview in the Post that he is out of sympathy with the way foreign aid bills are handled.

"If they want to pursue that same kind (of legislation), they ought to turn it over to someone else, someone who is fresher and more enthusiastic than I am," he said.

If Fulbright should relinquish the floor managership of the always controversial foreign aid bill, the next senators in line would be Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., who already has his hands full as majority leader, and Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who has contributed his share of criticism of recent foreign aid legislation.

Fulbright indicated he does not oppose the general principle of foreign aid and has no complaint about the administration of the program.

But he said he thinks the administration should separate the aid bill into functions — military, economic, loan, grant, humanitarian and so on.

"Why should it all be in one big conglomerate mass?" he asked.

He said he is not afraid of skyrocketing costs if the Pentagon were given responsibility for military aid — "The military gets all it wants anyway." There have been suggestions in the past that the military part of foreign aid should be handled in connection with the defense budget.

Fulbright said he had notified Secretary of State Dean Rusk by letter of his feelings.

BELGRADE (AP) — Smoking is prohibited in Yugoslavia on buses which make trips of less than 20 kilometers. So there is no smoking on the Yugoslav Air Transport Company's buses taking passengers to or from the Belgrade Airport — a trip of 19 kilometers. There have been some protests. One suggestion was that the bus company move its offices one kilometer farther away. Another was that the bus make a detour to extend the trip one more kilometer.

Fulbright Says He No Longer Will Steer Foreign Aid Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., says he will no longer steer the administration's foreign aid bills through the Senate, The Washington Post reported today.

Fulbright, as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, has borne the major responsibility in the Senate for legislation on the nation's international undertakings, including military and economic aid to other countries.

The Arkansas Democrat said in an interview in the Post that he is out of sympathy with the way foreign aid bills are handled.

"If they want to pursue that same kind (of legislation), they ought to turn it over to someone else, someone who is fresher and more enthusiastic than I am," he said.

If Fulbright should relinquish the floor managership of the always controversial foreign aid bill, the next senators in line would be Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., who already has his hands full as majority leader, and Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who has contributed his share of criticism of recent foreign aid legislation.

Fulbright indicated he does not oppose the general principle of foreign aid and has no complaint about the administration of the program.

But he said he thinks the administration should separate the aid bill into functions — military, economic, loan, grant, humanitarian and so on.

"Why should it all be in one big conglomerate mass?" he asked.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This is not a problem but it is a mild annoyance. A sentence or two from you could put my mind at ease.

My great aunt, who is 71 years old, telephones me every day to forecast the weather. She is not a meteorologist, she has had no scientific background, she owns no instruments — nothing that might help her make an accurate prediction — yet she never misses. It drives me crazy.

Sometimes Auntie disagrees with the newspaper and TV forecasters. When there is disagreement, she is right and they are wrong.

Last week we had storm warnings with predictions of high winds, thundershowers and possible hail. Auntie phoned to say, "There will be no storm. Go ahead and have the picnic."

I canceled the picnic and the day turned out to be the loveliest of the season. Naturally Auntie phoned to say, "I told you so."

When I ask her how she does it she smiles and says, "I feel it in my bones." Can you explain it? — PUZZLEMENT IN CALIFORNIA.

-:-

Dear Puzzlement: What the old girl probably has going for her is a bunion, an old fracture — and a pretty good guesser. But don't let on that you know. This is probably the most fun she has!

Unfaithful Mate

Dear Ann: No initials and no city, please. If I'm identified I'm ruined.

Tell me, Ann, why is a wife crushed when she discovers her husband has been unfaithful? What is she afraid of?

Nothing tangible has been lost. Her husband is still parking his boots at home. He still loves her. The security of the home has not been threatened. He has no intention of leaving. She is, in the only important sense, his one and only. The other woman was a fleeting (and poor) substitute.

I can understand jealousy — tender moments have been given to someone else. I can also understand anger ("How can he do this to me?"). But why the awful hurt? To quote him, "Look. Here I am. Nothing has been left anywhere. Everything is still here for you."

Intellectually I know all the answers. But why am I devastated by my husband's occasional flings? — HIS WIFE.

Dear Wife: A husband's cheating is painful to a wife because of the unspoken implication that she is inadequate. These women miss the real point: The HUSBAND is inadequate.

The wedding date has been set four times. Each time it had to be postponed. First his leg was broken. I know he didn't break it on purpose, nonetheless we had to cancel the plans eight days before the wedding.

Two months later he developed a mysterious fever and had to be hospitalized six days before the wedding. The following month the date was set for the 15th. On the 10th he suddenly lost his hearing and had to fly East to see a specialist.

Last week we were all set—and his mother broke out with giant hives. He now says we can't be married until his mother recovers.

I'd like your ideas — WILTED BOUQUET.

Dear Wilted: This man's subconscious (and his mother) are protecting him against a marriage he doesn't want. If you succeed in becoming his wife (during an attack of good health) you'll probably regret it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Duke Spending Christmas Eve Reading, Resting

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Duke of Windsor, with three exotic Christmas trees of varying size, is spending Christmas Eve reading, walking and resting.

He also is checking a number of an estimated 3,000 Christmas cards and greetings received from friends and strangers around the world.

Methodist Hospital spokesman said the former British king, now 70, is making an excellent recovery from a Dec. 16 operation for removal of an aneurysm from an abdominal artery.

Hospital spokesmen said Wednesday the duke now is sitting up as much as four hours a day and is spending much of his time reading books on various phases of Texas history.

Hospital officials were silent on Christmas Day plans but there was no indication either the duke or duchess will leave their six-room fourth-floor suite.

There were unconfirmed reports the couple may move next weekend to a nearby hotel for one or two weeks.

Letters, cards and telegrams have been coming in daily.

"It's unbelievable, the mail, just fantastic," a hospital spokesman said.

One letter was signed by all 35 pupils of a class at a local elementary school.

A Miracle For Christmas

A miracle, by definition, is an event or effect in the physical world deviating from the known laws of nature, or transcending our knowledge of these laws.

Ida Jean Kain

In today's story, a valiant woman, working with the laws of nature, experienced a true miracle. I want to tell you about it at Christmas, for it will bring a resurgence of hope to anyone faced with a seemingly insurmountable disability.

—:—

THE STORY began on a mid-winter afternoon on a desert in the Middle East. Our spirited heroine was riding a silvery Arabian horse, running swiftly as the wind over hard, stony ground, when her mount stumbled and fell. Catapulted over the horse's head, she landed with terrific force on the left side of her forehead. As she felt the wrench in her neck she thought, "This the way you die of a broken neck. . .here I go!"

To her amazement, she was still alive. Finding herself all in one piece, and able to move, our intrepid grandmother remounted and rode the four miles home.

The extent of her injuries went undetected and for two months she received no proper treatment. A few weeks later during a sojourn in Crete, serious symptoms developed. While touring over a bumpy road, she sensed that something quite out of the ordinary was wrong. The slightest movement of her head sent shocks down both arms, clear to the fingertips. This grew progressively worse, and she hastened home.

Upon examination the doctor informed her gravely, "Madam, you have a broken neck, it is broken in two places." He pointed out that had the strain been an infinitesimal fraction more, the spinal cord would have snapped. . .and that would have been the end.

SHE WAS then sent to an outstanding orthopedic hospital, where she was put into a special leather four-poster traction collar. Later she wore the regulation Thomas Collar.

"How long must I wear this collar?" she asked. The doctor replied, "All your life." She wore the collar day and night for the following two months.

Determined to help herself in every possible way, she asked if she would be allowed to swim.

Taking courage in hand, she waded in — minus the collar. And so began the saga of the swim. The breast stroke is far from easy, but nonetheless she worked up to swimming a quarter mile a day. Fortunately she had given up smoking five years previously, and thus had the wind to accomplish this feat.

After two months of daily swimming, she was jubilant. She no longer needed to wear the collar in the day time, though she wore it at night for another six months.

Two years have passed. Today she is completely healed. Swimming therapy, plus a large measure of faith, wrought the miracle — an inspiring story for Christmas.

Mending Seen Taking Time

Hope Voiced Semi-Coup In Viet Only Temporary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources voiced hope today that the semi-coup by Saigon generals will turn out to be only a temporary setback in the long pull for an effective government in South Viet Nam.

They said they think it will be some time yet before a way is worked out of the political snarl caused by Sunday's military purge of the civilian High National Council.

Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor was said to have a broad mandate from President Johnson to push for a government with the wide support necessary to win an antiguerrilla war. Details in the behind-the-scenes discussions in Saigon were being handled by the U.S. envoy there.

Meanwhile U.S. policy makers were not ready to freeze the massive U.S. aid flow to South Viet Nam which is a mainstay of the campaign against the Viet Cong guerrillas.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk Wednesday backed Taylor against criticism from South Vietnamese commander in chief Nguyen Khanh, urged that Khanh's young generals set aside personal rivalries for the sake of the common cause, and said unity would be worth "many, many divisions" against the Reds.

Other U.S. sources said there are important limits on the amount of political leverage the United States can exert with its aid, because cutting it down would open the way for gains by the Communist insurgents.

As seen by U.S. officials here:

Progress in building stable, broadly based political institutions needed for victory in South Viet Nam has had its ups and downs since the ouster of the Diem dictatorship in 1963, but has been especially encouraging over the past few months.

Khanh yielded his premiership last August in favor of the High National Council, which was to serve as an interim civilian ruling body. Then last Sunday the young generals, while professing patriotic motives, dealt a heavy blow by abolishing the council.

Boys Help Police Capture One Of 10 'Most Wanted'

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)— The FBI could scratch the name of Alfred Oponowicz from its list of 10 Most Wanted Criminals today, but only after a bow to a group of grade school boys who ran down the dangerous, armed and wounded fugitive.

Four policemen dragged Oponowicz from a ditch Wednesday night. He cowered there face down, weak from loss of blood from shoulder and hip wounds received in a gun battle with Secret Service agents and Lake County deputy sheriffs Tuesday afternoon. Although his gun was beside him, he didn't try to use it.

It was a group of eight boys, aged about 8 to 12, who spotted the 38-year-old desperado and chased him across several vacant lots before losing him in a field near the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad yards here.

Neighbors, alerted by the racket the boys made, called police and a few minutes later the big manhunt was over. It had started 16 hours earlier and involved more than 100 police officers and a State Highway Patrol helicopter.

Not until Wednesday night—nearly 12 hours after he overpowered a guard at Lake County Memorial Hospital and fled with the guard's gun and clothing he took from an orderly—was the true identification of Oponowicz known to the searchers.

He had given his name as Robert Bennett and his age as 29 when he was arrested at his home five miles south of here Tuesday by raiders who seized $50,000 in counterfeit money, along with printing equipment and a small arsenal of arms.

Oponowicz was wounded at the time of his arrest in an exchange of shots with four Secret Service agents and two deputy sheriffs. He had snatched a pistol from beneath a blanket covering a year-old girl held in the arms of a tiny brunette who said she was Mrs. Nora Bennett, 25.

Authorities learned Wednesday night, they said, that the woman was Mrs. Iva Marie Cook, 25, of Cleveland, who had been Oponowicz' girl friend for about three years.

Early today Oponowicz was moved to the prison ward of Metropolitan General Hospital in Cleveland. His girl friend, under $50,000 bond and charged with possession of counterfeit money and counterfeit printing plates, is in the Cuyahoga County Jail in Cleveland. Her baby is under care of the Lake County Welfare Department.

All Three Killed In Plane Crash On Taking Off

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP) — A four-engine Flying Tiger Air Line Constellation cargo transport crashed minutes after takeoff today, killing the three crew members aboard, the airline reported.

A deputy from the San Mateo County sheriff's office said the crewmen were the only ones aboard the New York-bound transport, which took off from San Francisco International Airport at 12:29 a.m. The bodies have been recovered, he said.

The plane crashed several miles from the airport off Skyline Boulevard and San Francisco County Jail Road, the deputy said. The area is unpopulated, he said, about 20 miles from San Francisco.

Pentagon Says Bulk Of GIs In Viet Nam Ordered There

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says the big bulk of the approximately 22,000 American military men serving in South Viet Nam are there because they were ordered there — not because they volunteered.

It adds that "no formal inducements" are being made to get volunteers to sign up for duty there.

When the United States began giving military aid to South Viet Nam four years ago, a substantial part — if not an actual majority — of the American military men who went over to help in the war against Communist guerrillas were volunteers.

In answer to a question, the Defense Department said today that now "most people of all services are assigned as individuals, with few exceptions."

These exceptions include, in addition to the individual volunteers, units which are deployed to the war zone. These include Army Special Forces outfits and crews of Marine helicopter units which are rotated on Viet Nam duty.

The Pentagon said that when volunteers for Viet Nam duty are qualified and there is a need for military occupation specialty, the volunteers are assigned before nonvolunteers.

Presumably, there are several reasons for the emphasis on ordering men to Viet Nam and the de-emphasis on relying on volunteers.

The U.S. effort to assist the South Vietnamese government has been expanded several fold since 1961. Volunteers would be insufficient to provide the numbers and specialized skills required.

Not all of the U.S. Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force personnel in Viet Nam are eligible for the extra $55-a-month combat pay. This goes to volunteers and nonvolunteers alike in both South Viet Nam and Laos.

That directive specifies that for men to qualify they must be:

"Subject to hostile fire or explosion of hostile mines or in an area in which they are in imminent danger of being exposed to hostile fire or explosion of hostile mines; and in which during the period he was on duty in that area, other members of the uniformed services were subject to hostile fire or explosion of hostile mines."

The standard tour of U.S. servicemen in Viet Nam is 12 months when unaccompanied by dependents, 24 months for those with dependents.

Mending Seen Taking Time

Hope Voiced Semi-Coup In Viet Only Temporary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources voiced hope today that the semi-coup by Saigon generals will turn out to be only a temporary setback in the long pull for an effective government in South Viet Nam.

They said they think it will be some time yet before a way is worked out of the political snarl caused by Sunday's military purge of the civilian High National Council.

Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor was said to have a broad mandate from President Johnson to push for a government with the wide support necessary to win an antiguerrilla war. Details in the behind-the-scenes discussions in Saigon were being handled by the U.S. envoy there.

Meanwhile U.S. policy makers were not ready to freeze the massive U.S. aid flow to South Viet Nam which is a mainstay of the campaign against the Viet Cong guerrillas.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk Wednesday backed Taylor against criticism from South Vietnamese commander in chief Nguyen Khanh, urged that Khanh's young generals set aside personal rivalries for the sake of the common cause, and said unity would be worth "many, many divisions" against the Reds.

President, Family Prepared For Excitement Of Christmas

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — Christmas stockings marked "Daddy," "Mother," "Lynda" and "Luci" are hung by the chimney with care.

Colorful decorations of an eight-foot balsam tree sparkle in the President's library-office, and the Johnson family is ready for the excitement of Christmas at their ranch home.

There are a hand-made ornamental angel, pine cones and boughs of balsam on the mantles and stairways, a Nativity scene.

Mrs. Johnson says the ornamental angel which she received from a friend in Germany is a special favorite of hers. The First Lady did most of the decorating of the ranch home herself.

The President, Mrs. Johnson, and their daughters, Lynda, 20, and Luci, 17 will open their gifts from each other tonight. Then, if they follow their usual custom, they will wait until Friday morning to open their other packages.

The Johnsons plan to attend Christmas services at St. Barnabas Episcopal mission, 15 miles away in Fredericksburg.

For the holiday dinner there will be turkey and all the trimmings.

The Johnsons also spent last Christmas at the ranch and entertained 27 kinfolk at Christmas dinner in the President's 12-room stone and frame home.

Last year's Christmas was far from a relaxing one for the chief executive. He kept busy on the holiday inspecting his cattle, delivering poinsettias to his neighbors, and taking a speedboat spin on a nearby lake.

He even took time last year to lease 40 acres more of "stomping ground" to add to the Johnson holdings of 400 acres along the Pendarnales River.

Glad Tidings

Like the Wise Men, let us marvel anew at the miracle of Christmas.

Lawyer Granted Suspension Stay By High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Carlton S. Dargusch, prominent Columbus lawyer and an Ohio State University trustee, won't be suspended from practice until the U.S. Supreme Court rules on his case.

The Ohio Supreme Court granted Dargusch a stay of the suspension Wednesday, just a few hours after it had denied reconsideration of the case.

The delay in the suspension was granted after Dargusch's lawyers filed notice of intent to appeal to the higher court.

Dargusch was given an indefinite suspension Dec. 2 on grounds of misconduct stemming from handling of affairs of Sunday Creek Coal Co. His request for reconsideration — and presumably his appeal—contended his constitutional rights were violated because he was not given an opportunity to confront witnesses against him.

Navy Gives Ruling On Gifts Accepted By Its Personnel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy says it's okay for its personnel to accept gifts from people doing business with the Defense Department — provided it is a "customary exchange of social amenities between personal friends and relatives."

This ruling, issued earlier in the month, came in time to cover Christmas giving. However, it is intended to apply much more widely than that.

In effect, the Navy relaxed a bit a stern "standards of conduct" directive put out by the Defense Department in late September.

The Defense Department order took away virtually all individual discretion in the matter and just about banned all gift-accepting by military and civilian personnel from persons or firms doing business with the Pentagon.

Questions were raised at the time as to whether the Pentagon order didn't deal rather harshly in cases where people on the defense payroll happened to have old friends or relatives working for defense contractors.

After pondering this, officials told newsmen then that a military man or civilian employe would have to decide for himself whether the donor of a gift or entertainment was "a person of integrity."

The Navy allowed its people some leeway when it formulated its own instructions to carry out the over-all defense "standards of conduct" directive.

It excluded from the ban on gratuities "customary exchange of social amenities between personal friends and relatives when motivated by such relationship and extended on a personal basis."

Also excluded were "specialty advertising items of trivial intrinsic value."

At the same time, the Navy declared:

"No person shall allow himself to be placed in a position in which a conflict of interests might arise or might justifiably be suspected.

"Where there is a reasonable doubt as to the propriety of accepting favors, gratuities, or entertainment or of attending functions or accepting other invitations of a hospitable nature, naval personnel shall refrain therefrom."

Ohio Boy, 4, Sleeps Through 'Kidnap' Ride In Family Car

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four-year-old David Earl Fledderman was back home today, none the worse for a two-hour ride in the back seat of his family's car, stolen after the lad's mother left a key in the ignition switch to do last minute Christmas shopping.

David was asleep when she parked the car, Mrs. Earl H. Fledderman, the mother reported—and apparently he slept much of the time during an intervening two hours before he was found wandering along a road in Brown County, some 40 miles east of here. The family car was found abandoned not far away.

Mrs. Fledderman told police of suburban Groesbeck that she left the key in the ignition "by habit—a very stupid habit," and had returned to her parking site 10 minutes later to find the car gone.

David Earl was found running along U.S. 68 about a mile north of Georgetown by Ernest Liming, of that village an employe of the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co.

"He almost got hit by a big truck just before I came along," Liming told Brown Jones as he delivered the boy to Jones' apartment above the Georgetown Village jail.

The lad appeared unaware of the implications of his adventure and told Jones simply that he had awakened from his snooze to find a "man with glasses" at the wheel.

Taken to Jones' home, he appeared most concerned that a Christmas tree was bare of lights.

"Why doesn't that tree have lights?" he demanded, then turned his attention quickly to toys hasily given him to while away the time pending his parents' arrival.

Sheriff's forces, police and the Highway Patrol are investigating.

Legion Post 4 Picks Chairman Of Americanism

Dan McKeever was named Americanism chairman at a meeting of American Legion Post 4 Monday night in the Siff Building. His committee includes George Shawke, Harold Taylor and Warrick Johnston.

Charles B. Boso, commander, presided. Isaac Jones, delegate, reported on the City Veterans Council meeting. A proposed veterans memorial was discussed.

Richard Stiveson was reported ill at City Hospital. Purle Smith reported $71.50 collected for the Gifts for Yanks campaign. This sum exceeded the post's quota.

Wartime pictures of post members were turned over to Harry Aivalotis for his album project.

The trustees are conducting negotiations for the renewal of the lease on the post meeting rooms, which have been occupied since the sale of the former post home two years ago. The post will meet again Monday night at 8.

The company said the expansion, to be aided by $70,000 from the Greenfield Community Improvement Association would boost the work force from 134 to 275 employes.

The Defense Department order took away virtually all individual discretion in the matter and just about banned all gift-accepting by military and civilian personnel from persons or firms doing business with the Pentagon.

Questions were raised at the time as to whether the Pentagon order didn't deal rather harshly in cases where people on the defense payroll happened to have old friends or relatives working for defense contractors.

After pondering this, officials told newsmen then that a military man or civilian employe would have to decide for himself whether the donor of a gift or entertainment was "a person of integrity."

The Navy allowed its people some leeway when it formulated its own instructions to carry out the over-all defense "standards of conduct" directive.

It excluded from the ban on gratuities "customary exchange of social amenities between personal friends and relatives when motivated by such relationship and extended on a personal basis."

Also excluded were "specialty advertising items of trivial intrinsic value."

At the same time, the Navy declared:

"No person shall allow himself to be placed in a position in which a conflict of interests might arise or might justifiably be suspected.

"Where there is a reasonable doubt as to the propriety of accepting favors, gratuities, or entertainment or of attending functions or accepting other invitations of a hospitable nature, naval personnel shall refrain therefrom."

Ohio Boy, 4, Sleeps Through 'Kidnap' Ride In Family Car

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four-year-old David Earl Fledderman was back home today, none the worse for a two-hour ride in the back seat of his family's car, stolen after the lad's mother left a key in the ignition switch to do last minute Christmas shopping.

David was asleep when she parked the car, Mrs. Earl H. Fledderman, the mother reported—and apparently he slept much of the time during an intervening two hours before he was found wandering along a road in Brown County, some 40 miles east of here. The family car was found abandoned not far away.

Mrs. Fledderman told police of suburban Groesbeck that she left the key in the ignition "by habit—a very stupid habit," and had returned to her parking site 10 minutes later to find the car gone.

David Earl was found running along U.S. 68 about a mile north of Georgetown by Ernest Liming, of that village an employe of the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co.

"He almost got hit by a big truck just before I came along," Liming told Brown Jones as he delivered the boy to Jones' apartment above the Georgetown Village jail.

The lad appeared unaware of the implications of his adventure and told Jones simply that he had awakened from his snooze to find a "man with glasses" at the wheel.

Taken to Jones' home, he appeared most concerned that a Christmas tree was bare of lights.

"Why doesn't that tree have lights?" he demanded, then turned his attention quickly to toys hasily given him to while away the time pending his parents' arrival.

Sheriff's forces, police and the Highway Patrol are investigating.

Dan McKeever was named Americanism chairman at a meeting of American Legion Post 4 Monday night in the Siff Building. His committee includes George Shawke, Harold Taylor and Warrick Johnston.

Charles B. Boso, commander, presided. Isaac Jones, delegate, reported on the City Veterans Council meeting. A proposed veterans memorial was discussed.

Richard Stiveson was reported ill at City Hospital. Purle Smith reported $71.50 collected for the Gifts for Yanks campaign. This sum exceeded the post's quota.

Wartime pictures of post members were turned over to Harry Aivalotis for his album project.

The trustees are conducting negotiations for the renewal of the lease on the post meeting rooms, which have been occupied since the sale of the former post home two years ago. The post will meet again Monday night at 8.

She Takes Problem Straight To The Top

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — Before Cindy Hartley left for college, her father instructed her to go see President Kelly Thompson whenever a serious problem arose.

Several days later, she wanted to attend a football game at Western Kentucky State College, but already had mailed home her registration receipt. It was to be used until the college could issue her an identification card.

Cindy then called on Thompson, and was invited to attend as his guest.

Christmas Is Dec. 27 For Cleveland And Baltimore

Colts Are 6 To 7 Point Favorites

By LOU MIO

CLEVELAND (AP) — Christmas is Dec. 27 as far as the Baltimore Colts and Cleveland Browns are concerned.

That's the date of the National Football League championship game in Municipal Stadium, and Santa will leave over $8,000 in each winner's stocking. Each loser will receive over $5,000.

Radio and television receipts are $1.8 million.

The game will be witnessed by about 83,000 here, an attendance drop in the bucket when compared with the television audience scattered over 98.1 per cent of the country and into Canada, where 30 french - language stations will be among those telecasting the action.

Kickoff is 1:30 p.m., EST. The Weather Bureau predicts temperatures in the upper 20s or low 30s, but as of Thursday no snow is forecast.

The Colts have been a 6-to-7 point favorites for about a week now.

The outcome could hang on several questions.

Can the Browns defensive line get to Colts' quarterback Johnny Unitas, considered the best flinger in the NFL?

Can the Colts contain fullback Jim Brown, the league's leading rusher and also considered the finest in his trade?

How about the receivers?

The Browns must handle flanker Jimmy Orr and ends Ray Berry and John Mackey.

Baltimore will meet rookie flanker Paul Warfield for the first time, the former Ohio State halfback who has earned double coverage by many NFL teams. Also, the visitors can't neglect flanker Gary Collins or end Johnny Brewer, two veterans who know their way around a defensive backfield with a diagram.

Cleveland's fortunes may rest in the hands of quarterback Frank Ryan, the mathematics wizard from Rice University who has engineered the Browns for two years. He has had both good and bad days in directing Cleveland to a 10-3-1 record and the Eastern Division title.

Ryan can scramble out of the pocket and statistically he appears on a par with Unitas. Frank has a 52.1 per cent completion record for 2,404 yards and 25 touchdowns.

Unitas compiled a 51.8 per cent average for 2,824 yards and 19 touchdowns during the Colts' 12-2 record and the Western Division crown. But Ryan has had 19 passes intercepted while only six of Unitas' aerials fell into enemy hands.

Unitas also has a combination runner-receiver in halfback Lenny Moore, voted by The Associated Press as Comeback Player of the Year. Moore finished as NFL scoring leader with a record 20 touchdowns. Jerry Hill is Moore's running partner, while Ernie Green shares similar duties with Brown.

The game will be a homecoming for Colts' coach Don Shula, a native of nearby Painesville, Ohio, who was voted the NFL's Coach of the Year by The Associated Press. Shula once was an assistant to Browns' coach Blanton Collier when Collier was at the University of Kentucky.

This will be the Browns' first appearance in a championship game since 1957 after appearing in six straight winner-take-all contests from 1950-55. Their record is 4-3. Baltimore has been in two playoffs—beating the New York Giants in 1958 and 1959.

The Midland Holiday Tournament will host some of the teams who figure to rank high in the WPIAL race this season.

The pairings show McKeesport meeting Ford City Monday at 7:30 while Midland tangles with Duquesne at 9 p. m. The winners return Tuesday for the championship battle while the two losers will meet in a consolation tilt.

FORD CITY shows three returning lettermen in Joe Kozuch, Paul Wolfe and Tim Szymanski. Ford City always has been a contender for Section 1 honors and this season is no different. Last season Coach Hube Ruppert's team carved out a 19-4 record.

Kozuch, standing 6-4 is the tallest member of the squad, and is an all Section choice.

Duquesne has a new coach this season in John Karpinski. The Dukes will have John Dillinger, 6-4, all-Section choice in the lineup along with veterans Bob Barnett, Pete Janusek and Jim Pianastes.

DUQUESNE has played three impressive games since defeating Kittanning in its opener. They tripped highly touted Aliquippa and dropped two close contests to top ranked Gateway and Penn Hills.

Mdiland is the established favorite to cop the tourney. The Leopards have gone almost unchallenged in seven straight victories. The narrowest margin of victory came over Steubenville Big Red, 62-52, last Saturday.

An award also will be made to the best team of cheerleaders.

Jim Migliore and John Wilson are co - chairman of the holiday tourney.

Wilson Follows His Aides, Resigns As Detroit's Head Coach

By BILL HALLS
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — George Wilson quit as head coach of the Detroit Lions Wednesday in the wake of an apparent power struggle over the extent of his authority under millionaire owner William Clay Ford.

The resignation came less than 48 hours after Wilson was said to have agreed in a conference with Ford and General Manager Edwin J. Anderson to fire all five of his assistant coaches. The firings reportedly came despite strong objections from Wilson. They were announced in a Lions news release.

Wilson walked hurriedly out of the Lions' offices without comment Wednesday.

"It's Wilson's decision," said Ford. "I'd rather the reasons came from him."

Wilson was not available for comment.

Ford said he was "surprised and disappointed" at Wilson's decision. He added: "We parted on friendly terms. He's a fine fellow, but in the long run we may both be better off."

Ford said the 51-year-old Wilson phoned him Wednesday and the two men met for an hour, apparently to work out a "mutually satisfactory" agreement on the remainder of Wilson's contract. The three-year pact, calling for a reported $47,000-a-year, still had a year to run.

Ford said Wilson indicated he did not have another job. There have been rumors Wilson would become head coach of the rival National Football League Chicago Bears but he has denied them.

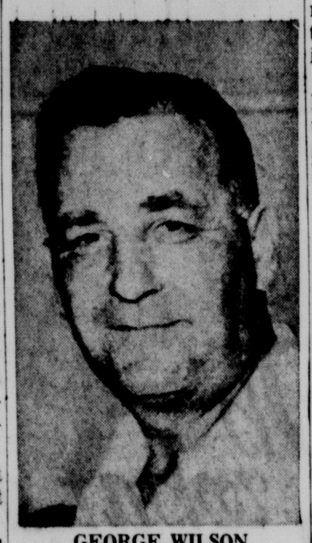

The split between Ford and Wilson was generated last weekend by word that Wilson aides Bob Nussbaumer, Don Doll and Les Bingaman had been fired. The reports were confirmed Monday when Ford said two other assistants, Aldo Forte and Sonny Grandelius, also had been fired following the Ford-Wilson-Anderson huddle.

Wilson had hired all the assistants except Forte.

The firings followed reports that some players had complained about a variety of problems to top Lions brass over Wilson's head.

Ford was asked by a newsman if Wilson, coach since 1957, had been stripped of his authority to make player trades and run his staff as he saw fit.

Ford replied: "The authority wasn't the same as before in Wilson's mind."

GEORGE WILSON
Gets Gate At Detroit.

Ford said that no player had complained to him personally. He said some may have talked with other Lions officials. He asserted the firings of the assistants was not designed to force Wilson out.

When the five assistants were dismissed, Ford said Wilson would remain as head coach for an indefinite contract term.

Ford said he did not try to talk Wilson out of resigning.

"His mind was pretty well made up," the owner said.

Ford said he had no basic objection to Wilson's coaching methods but felt a "change in technique was necessary."

Ford declined to elaborate on the policy conflicts between him and Wilson.

He said he planned to "take my time" in looking for a new coach. "I have no preconceived notions," he said. "I'm looking for a winner — one that can bring me the championship."

Dayton Beats Army Stall; Ohio U. Routs Wildcats

By The Associated Press

Shades of the 1930s. The score was 41-33.

Yep, it was basketball, all right.

At least, that's the way Army played it Wednesday night, but to no avail as Dayton's Flyers defeated the visiting cadets in a slow, dull game marked by boos from fans throughout.

Army took only 13 shots the first half and led 19-18 at the intermission. But the Flyers got the lead with eight minutes left and put on a deep freeze of their own.

The Flyers' Henry Finkel, 6-11 cent and the nation's leading field goal marksman with 31 point game average, tallied only 13 but shared scoring honors with teammate Henry Burlong.

In other action involving Ohio teams, Ohio University, led by Tom Davis with 23 points, surprised Northwestern's Wildcats 88-67. The lead changed ten times the first half before the Bobcats pulled away.

The University of Cincinnati's Bearcats jumped off to 21 - 10 lead in the first 11 minutes and scored a 71-56 victory over Oregon State. Oregon's Jim Jarvis topped all scorers with 21 but both clubs had trouble hitting from the field.

In another Cincinnati contest, Xavier came up with a respectable offensive score and outclassed St. Bonaventure of New York 100-78. Steve Thomas of Xavier hit a season high with 41 points.

At Philadelphia, St. Joseph's stood off surging Bowling Green 60-54 with an eight minute stall after being ahead of the Falcons by 16 points. Bowling Green is still winless.

Akron won the Rubber City Classic, hitting over 50 per cent from the field and defeated Westminister 78-66.

The two longest winning streaks in the district are owned by Beaver County teams—Western Beaver and Midland. Western made it eight in a row Wednesday night with a 60-32 romp over visiting St. Veronica.

Clarence Andrews, 6-foot sophomore grabbed scoring honors, with 18 points while Bruce Singleton gathered 11 and Ken Brandt 10.

Joe Doylak and Dan Hennessey with nine each paced the St. Veronica five.

Western Beaver won't return to action until Dec. 31 at Shadyside.

The Western Beaver reserves continued to keep pace with the varsity by chalking up their eighth victory, 64-26, in the preliminary battle.

Baylor's 43 Leads Lakers Over 76ers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elgin Baylor, his leg trouble apparently a thing of the past, is looking like the Baylor of old these days.

The evidence: 83 points in his last two games.

Baylor collected 43 points Wednesday night in leading the Los Angeles Lakers to a 135-117 National Basketball Association victory over the Philadelphia 76ers.

It was his best performance since March of 1963 when he contributed 46 points to the Laker cause.

He got strong help Wednesday from LeRoy Ellis and Jim King. Together with Baylor, they served to make up for the loss of stars Jerry West and Rudy LaRusso—both sidelined with back injuries.

Ellis put in 23 points and King 22.

The victory boosted Los Angeles' Western Division lead to 2½ games over St. Louis, which was idle, as was the rest of the NBA.

Western Beaver turned last night's contest into a one sided affair early jumping to a 26-6 lead at the end of the first period. By halftime the Beavers were standing on a 41-15 lead.

Clarence Andrews, 6-foot sophomore grabbed scoring honors, with 18 points while Bruce Singleton gathered 11 and Ken Brandt 10.

Joe Doylak and Dan Hennessey with nine each paced the St. Veronica five.

Western Beaver won't return to action until Dec. 31 at Shadyside.

The Western Beaver reserves continued to keep pace with the varsity by chalking up their eighth victory, 64-26, in the preliminary battle.

Baylor's 43 Leads Lakers Over 76ers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elgin Baylor, his leg trouble apparently a thing of the past, is looking like the Baylor of old these days.

The evidence: 83 points in his last two games.

Baylor collected 43 points Wednesday night in leading the Los Angeles Lakers to a 135-117 National Basketball Association victory over the Philadelphia 76ers.

It was his best performance since March of 1963 when he contributed 46 points to the Laker cause.

He got strong help Wednesday from LeRoy Ellis and Jim King. Together with Baylor, they served to make up for the loss of stars Jerry West and Rudy LaRusso—both sidelined with back injuries.

Ellis put in 23 points and King 22.

The victory boosted Los Angeles' Western Division lead to 2½ games over St. Louis, which was idle, as was the rest of the NBA.

Staubach, Rhome Form 1-2 Punch For Southern Team

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Wayne Hardin and Ara Parseghian have their Heisman Trophy winning quarterbacks — Roger Staubach and John Huarte — for one more game, but Hardin and the South have Bob Hayes and Jerry Rhome, too.

That added duo could provide the difference Friday in the North-South all-star college football game at Miami, one of three post-season contests scheduled for this holiday weekend.

Georgia and Texas Tech clash in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., Saturday while the Blue and the Gray all-star teams meet at Montgomery, Ala.

Hardin, who recently resigned as coach at Navy where he had Staubach for three years, is one of the coaches of the star-studded South squad.

Parseghian, who helped pull Huarte from the ranks of obscurity to the Heisman Trophy, coaches the North along with Paul Dietzel of Army, Hardin's archrival for three years.

Staubach, along with Tulsa's Rhome, will have an unusually speedy target in Hayes, the Florida A&M flash who is receiving his first crack at major competition.

The North spent 1½ hours Wednesday on ways of stopping the double gold medalist.

"They'll complete some passes on us, but our main concern is to stop them from getting the long bomb," Parseghian said.

Dietzel and Parseghian hope to offset Hayes' potential with Herman Johnson of Michigan State, a defensive specialist who has range, speed and size needed to stop the South end.

Georgia will have a problem of its own in the Sun Bowl. The Bulldogs must stop Donnie Anderson, third-best rusher in the nation who also caught 32 passes for 396 yards. He ran for 966 yards, an average of 4.6 yards per carry.

Georgia has no one to match Anderson, but quarterback Preston Ridlehuber likes to run with the ball. In fact, he set a school record this season for yards gained rushing by a T formation signal-caller.

The Blue and Gray squads, meanwhile, finished up their workouts today with Blue Coach Murray Warmath of Minnesota and Gray Coach Paul Davis of Mississippi State both optimistic.

The big bowl weekend comes next week with the Rose, Cotton, Orange and Sugar Bowls set for Friday and the Gator Bowl and East-West game scheduled for Saturday.

Yankees Not Invited To Meeting Of Losers

NEW YORK (AP) — Time: Christmas Eve. Place: The cellar of Madison Square Garden.

Gathered are all the members of the New York Loser's Club: The baseball Mets, the football Jets, the basketball Knicks, the hockey Rangers, and the new boy in the cellar, the football Giants.

Mr. Met, the chairman speaks:

"Before we sing our annual carol, 'Rudolph the sore-armed pitcher', I'd like to welcome back a member of our club who has gone astray the last three seasons. I mean, of course, the good old football Giants, who finished a crashing last this year.

ALL: Hear, hear.

Mr. Giant: Ah, it was nothing fellows. Y. A. Tittle got old, and Allie made some trades that made Jack and the Beanstalk look like David Harum. But it's nice to be back. Merry Christmas.

Mr. Ranger: Hope you stick around for a long time, fella. I saw your last game and the chances are good. It grows on you down here. Look at me, I haven't been in the Stanley Cup since it was known as the Livingstone Bowl.

Mr. Jet: Sure, nothing succeeds in this town like failure. Look at the Mets and us, we got a fancy new park and we fill it all the time. And we've never played .500 ball in our lives.

Mr. Knick: I don't even play .300. I've been in the cellar since the center jump. But things are looking up a little. I get this fellow Bill Bradley from Princeton next year.

Mr. Jet: You dope, he's going to Oxford.

Mr. Knick: Whatdaya mean? I got territorial rights to him in the draft. I always get first pick, for finishing last. And Oxford ain't even in the league.

Mr. Ranger: Bradley won a Rhodes Scholarship. He goes over to Oxford for two years. And just in time, if you ask me. If you'd drafted him before he left he probably couldn't have made the Oxford team, and they don't even have one.

Mr. Met: Well, that's life in the cellar. Them as hasn't, doesn't get. Now it's time to pass around the presents. Here's one for each of you.

All: Just what we always wanted! New York Yankees dolls.

Mr. Met: Right, and you each have a pin to stick in your doll. Now when Mel Allen gives the word, let's all stick our pin in the Yankees, who won the pennant for the 14th time in the last 16 years.

Allen: How about that?

Boston Star Leads Assault On Records

NEW YORK (AP) — Gino Cappelletti, Boston's premier pointmaker, and the supercharged Houston battery of George Blanda and Charley Hennigan led an assault on the American Football League record book in 1964.

Cappelletti, The Associated Press' AFL Player of the Year, broke his own all-time scoring mark while Blanda's pitching and Hennigan's catching established three single-season aerial records, final league figures reveal.

The Patriots' place kicker-pass receiver scored seven touchdowns, booted 25 field goals and accounted for 37 points after touchdown for a total of 155 points, eight more than his previous league high, set in 1961.

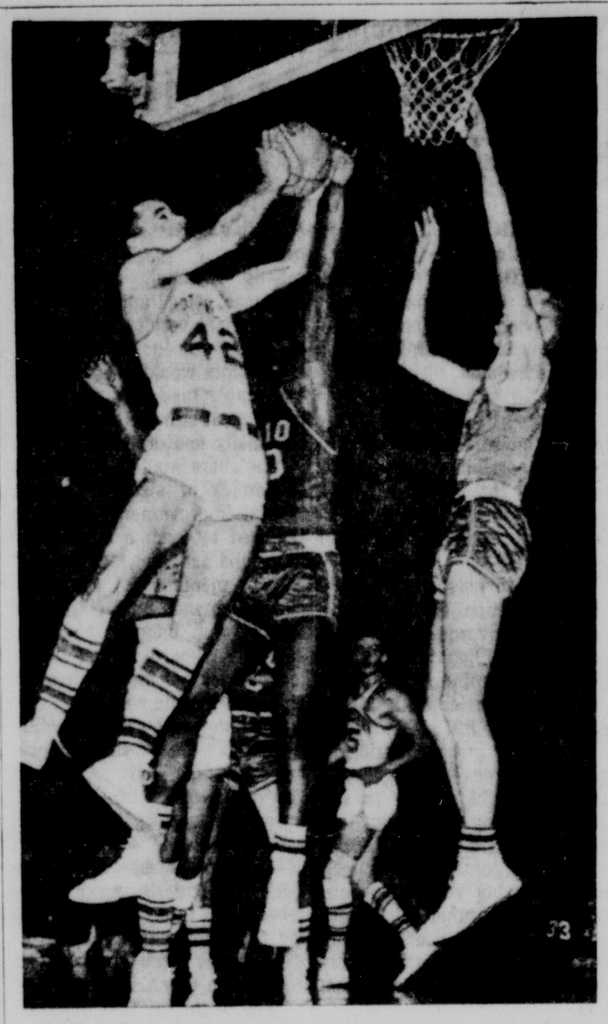

Hennigan's 101 pass receptions topped by one the all-pro mark set by Denver's Lionel Taylor three years ago. Blanda, the Oilers' 36-year-old signal caller, smashed season records for pass attempts, 505, and completions, 262. Denver passer Frank Tripucka had set marks of 478 and 248 in 1960.

Kansas City's Len Dawson threw less than Blanda but made his tosses pay off in the league's efficiency ratings Dawson received the top grade of 58 points, based on completion percentage, yards gained, touchdowns, etc., and won the passing crown for the second time in three seasons.

He paced the league with a 56.2 completion mark and flipped 30 scoring passes, one less than league-leader Babe Parilli of Boston.

Cookie Gilchrist of the Eastern champion Buffalo Bills, regained the rushing title he lost to Oakland's Clem Daniels last season. Cookie rambled for 981 yards, finishing 36 yards in front of New York rookie Matt Snell. Daniels came on after a slow start and wound up third with 823 yards.

Bethlehem today is a town of towers and domes, but has few hotels.

Blind Postmaster Hands Out The Mail

FORT FRASER, B.C. (AP) — The postmaster in this northern British Columbia community is a blind man.

J. C. Matthews depends on his wife to sort the mail, but he knows everyone in the district by voice and knows where each individual's mail slot is located.

Six years ago, Boy Scouts bought Matthews a seeing-eye dog. But now the dog, Roamer, is apparently going blind and a spokesman for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind says the institute is sad and worried about the possibility that the postmaster might lose his "great companion."

Bearcats May Face Michigan

Cincy Seems On Way Back After Winning 5th In Row

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

This will be a happy Christmas for Ed Jucker, the basketball coach at the University of Cincinnati.

His Bearcats, who won the national collegiate championship in 1961 and 1962 and just missed an unprecedented third straight crown in 1963, are on the way back. They didn't qualify for the NCAA championship tournament last season.

Jucker's boys won their fifth straight Wednesday night with a 71-56 home-court victory over Oregon State. Five baskets in quick succession by sophomore Jerry Couzins broke a 41-41 tie and the Beavers never caught up.

The Bearcats now boast a 6-1 record. They beat George Washington in their opener, then lost to Miami of Ohio. Since then they have swept Louisville, Kansas, Centenary, Denver and Oregon State. Their next game is a first- round game against Temple Monday night in the Holiday Festival at New York, a tournament in which they might encounter top-ranked Michigan.

Michigan warmed up for its straight crown in 1963, are on first-game against Manhattan by crushing Butler 99-81. A crowd of 8,000 packed the Yost Fieldhouse at Ann Arbor to watch the Wolverines chalk up their sixth victory in seven starts. Cazzie Russell scored 21 points and Bill Buntin 19.

The fifth-ranked San Francisco Dons, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, made it six straight against no defeats by defeating Utah State 86-71. Big Ollie Johnson, with 28 points and 22 rebounds, led the Dons in their easy victory at San Francisco.

Villanova and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia also stayed in the unbeaten class and upped their records to 7-0. Villanova crushed St. Francis, Pa. 101-58 at Altoona and the Hawks downed Bowling Green 60-54 in the opener of a doubleheader at Philadelphia. Temple whipped Pennsylvania 73-59 in the nightcap of the twin bill at the Palestra.

Army, on its way to next week's Far West Classic at Portland, Ore., was booed at Dayton, Ohio, in losing to the Flyers 41-33. The Cadets played a ball-control game that aroused the fans' ire.

The Murray State Thoroughbreds, beaten last week in the final of the Sun Devil Classic at Tempe, Ariz., won the Ohio Valley Conference holiday tournament by defeating Western Kentucky 77-68 at Louisville.

Bills Given Slight Edge In AFL Tilt

By The Associated Press

The weather looms large over the two pro football title games this weekend, which wound up by coincidence in a pair of stadia on the Great Lakes where winter usually hits harder than Jimmy Brown.

The American Football League settles its championship first, with the defending champion San Diego Chargers visiting the Buffalo Bills Saturday afternoon.

The next day, Johnny Unitas leads the Baltimore Colts, Western Division champs, against the Cleveland Browns, the Eastern winners, in the National Football Laague's title struggle.

A full house of about 41,000 is due at Buffalo Saturday, with 83,000 expected in the big Cleveland Stadium Sunday.

Despite the fact that temperatures in the 30s are about the best that can be hoped for in either city, both games could have sold out twice.

The NFL's title game has been played in a deep freeze for the last three years—Green Bay, New York and Chicago—and with the Cleveland site this year has revived suggestions that the title game be moved regularly to some place with more balmy December weather.

"Every time it is mentioned I get a flood of letters opposing it," says NFL Commissioner Pete Rzelle.

San Diego took the AFL title last year in California, 51-10, over the Boston Patriots. Veteran Tobin Rote was the quarterback in that game and will be playing his last game for the Chargers on Saturday.

This year John Hadl may be at quarterback. If Hadl runs the club and wins he will be the first championship quarterback the AFL has ever had who did not play in the older NFL first.

Jackie Kemp, the Buffalo quarterback, has an NFL background and also played for San Diego before the Chargers let him get away to Buffalo for $100.

The Bills are a slight choice.

Unitas and the Colts are the favorites in the NFL game, despite the crunching rushing of fullback Brown for Cleveland.

"I'm worried about the weather," Brown says. "A runner has to have the right conditions. It's a shame that weather plays such an important part in such a big game."

FORT FRASER, B.C. (AP) — The postmaster in this northern British Columbia community is a blind man.

J. C. Matthews depends on his wife to sort the mail, but he knows everyone in the district by voice and knows where each individual's mail slot is located.

Six years ago, Boy Scouts bought Matthews a seeing-eye dog. But now the dog, Roamer, is apparently going blind and a spokesman for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind says the institute is sad and worried about the possibility that the postmaster might lose his "great companion."

Bearcats May Face Michigan

Cincy Seems On Way Back After Winning 5th In Row

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

This will be a happy Christmas for Ed Jucker, the basketball coach at the University of Cincinnati.

His Bearcats, who won the national collegiate championship in 1961 and 1962 and just missed an unprecedented third straight crown in 1963, are on the way back. They didn't qualify for the NCAA championship tournament last season.

Jucker's boys won their fifth straight Wednesday night with a 71-56 home-court victory over Oregon State. Five baskets in quick succession by sophomore Jerry Couzins broke a 41-41 tie and the Beavers never caught up.

The Bearcats now boast a 6-1 record. They beat George Washington in their opener, then lost to Miami of Ohio. Since then they have swept Louisville, Kansas, Centenary, Denver and Oregon State. Their next game is a first- round game against Temple Monday night in the Holiday Festival at New York, a tournament in which they might encounter top-ranked Michigan.

Michigan warmed up for its straight crown in 1963, are on first-game against Manhattan by crushing Butler 99-81. A crowd of 8,000 packed the Yost Fieldhouse at Ann Arbor to watch the Wolverines chalk up their sixth victory in seven starts. Cazzie Russell scored 21 points and Bill Buntin 19.

The fifth-ranked San Francisco Dons, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, made it six straight against no defeats by defeating Utah State 86-71. Big Ollie Johnson, with 28 points and 22 rebounds, led the Dons in their easy victory at San Francisco.

Villanova and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia also stayed in the unbeaten class and upped their records to 7-0. Villanova crushed St. Francis, Pa. 101-58 at Altoona and the Hawks downed Bowling Green 60-54 in the opener of a doubleheader at Philadelphia. Temple whipped Pennsylvania 73-59 in the nightcap of the twin bill at the Palestra.

Army, on its way to next week's Far West Classic at Portland, Ore., was booed at Dayton, Ohio, in losing to the Flyers 41-33. The Cadets played a ball-control game that aroused the fans' ire.

Taylor Locke, the Army coach, said afterwards that he sympathized with the fans because "this type of game is no fun to watch." He explained he employed the ball-control tactic to help protect the injured ankle of Mike Silliman, the Cadets' star.

The Murray State Thoroughbreds, beaten last week in the final of the Sun Devil Classic at Tempe, Ariz., won the Ohio Valley Conference holiday tournament by defeating Western Kentucky 77-68 at Louisville.

Bills Given Slight Edge In AFL Tilt

By The Associated Press

The weather looms large over the two pro football title games this weekend, which wound up by coincidence in a pair of stadia on the Great Lakes where winter usually hits harder than Jimmy Brown.

The American Football League settles its championship first, with the defending champion San Diego Chargers visiting the Buffalo Bills Saturday afternoon.

The next day, Johnny Unitas leads the Baltimore Colts, Western Division champs, against the Cleveland Browns, the Eastern winners, in the National Football Laague's title struggle.

A full house of about 41,000 is due at Buffalo Saturday, with 83,000 expected in the big Cleveland Stadium Sunday.

Despite the fact that temperatures in the 30s are about the best that can be hoped for in either city, both games could have sold out twice.

The NFL's title game has been played in a deep freeze for the last three years—Green Bay, New York and Chicago—and with the Cleveland site this year has revived suggestions that the title game be moved regularly to some place with more balmy December weather.

The chances of that seem slim.

"Every time it is mentioned I get a flood of letters opposing it," says NFL Commissioner Pete Rzelle.

San Diego took the AFL title last year in California, 51-10, over the Boston Patriots. Veteran Tobin Rote was the quarterback in that game and will be playing his last game for the Chargers on Saturday.

This year John Hadl may be at quarterback. If Hadl runs the club and wins he will be the first championship quarterback the AFL has ever had who did not play in the older NFL first.

Jackie Kemp, the Buffalo quarterback, has an NFL background and also played for San Diego before the Chargers let him get away to Buffalo for $100.

The Bills are a slight choice.

Unitas and the Colts are the favorites in the NFL game, despite the crunching rushing of fullback Brown for Cleveland.

"I'm worried about the weather," Brown says. "A runner has to have the right conditions. It's a shame that weather plays such an important part in such a big game."

3 Ohio Fives In Top Ten

By The Associated Press

All signs point to another devastating season and another national small-college basketball championship for the Evansville Aces from Indiana.

With Larry Humes showing the way, the Aces whipped Louisiana State last Saturday for their fifth straight against major opponents. This gave them an over-all winning streak of 11, including a carryover of six from last season.

In fact, the Aces have a record of 26-1 in their last 27 games. That defeat was at the hands of Notre Dame and the Aces already have turned the tables on the Irish this season.

It is no surprise therefore that the Aces were named the No. 1 team Wednesday in The Associated Press small-college poll for the third straight week. They polled 11 of 12 first-place votes cast by an AP panel of sports writers and broadcasters. The only dissenting vote went to High Point.

The Aces thus missed a perfect total of 120 points by just one point. The Grambling Tigers from Louisiana, unbeaten through Dec. 21 like Evansville and High Point, retained second place with a total of 85 points on the basis of 10 for first place, nine for second, etc.

Rounding out the top ten were Winston-Salem, N.C.; Pan-American, Tex.; Wittenberg, Ohio; Fresno State, Calif.; Southern Illinois; High Point; Akron, and Youngstown, Ohio.

Would Revolutionize Airline Setup

750-Passenger Jetliner Seen Unlikely Before 70s

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A 750-passenger commercial jetliner, if an economic version ever appears, would revolutionize today's scheduled airline operations.

However, its debut is unlikely before the mid-1970s. Its most exciting possibility then: sharp fare cuts for long-hop travel, greatly stimulating coast-to-coast and overseas passenger traffic.

That, in a nutshell, was first airline reaction to a prospect raised by government plans to pour $750 million into developing a giant military-equipment and troop carrier with 250,000 pounds of pay lift.

A regular transatlantic jet handles 45 tons of cargo on a standard flight, or 120 passengers. Economy flights can take as many as 170 passengers.

The government's announcement Tuesday stirred speculation of a commercial sequel, even though Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said there were no thoughts along that line.

Major airlines sidestepped on-the-record comment beyond general expressions of interest, citing the many "ifs" involved on operating characteristics, operating costs and purchase price.

Selig Altschul, an aviation financial consultant, said if a commercial version met severe demands of economic operation, it probably would open the way for sizable fare cuts and result in a "great stimulation" of travel, chiefly to Europe.

"But there would be offsets to economies of size, he added. "Great improvements would be required by such a huge plane in ground handling facilities.

He mentioned extremely heavy demands on facilities for food service, baggage handling, sanitation, boarding and ticketing that today's airports are not equipped to cope with.

"How do you go about feeding a mob like that?" said a representative of Pan American World Airways.

An American Airlines official, asked about the attractiveness of a 750-ton behemoth in New York-Los Angeles service, observed that three airlines flying the route now carry roughly 1,500 persons each way spread among two dozen flights.

"You might say that would be two loads each way. What kind of frequency of service would this allow?" he asked. "Certainly not what today's air traveler has come to demand."

Progress Is Reported In Unions-Rails Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Railroads and five operating unions have made progress in discussing issues that had brought a strike threat, and the talks will continue Jan. 5.

This word came from the federal mediator, Francis A. O'Neill Jr., who said some advances had been made on job security, the major remaining question. The deadline for agreement has again been extended, O'Neill said, and there is at present no threat of a strike over job security.

These talks are apart from wage negotiations by three non-operating unions which have posed the threat of a strike after Jan. 1.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The amounts of certain radioactive material found in milk in the United States increased after the Oct. 16 nuclear test by Red China — but levels are well within the range of acceptable health risk, the Public Health Service says.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A storm has blown up around Undersecretary of Labor John F. Henning. Secretary W. Willard Wirtz is known to be seeking Henning's departure, but the undersecretary is strongly backed by AFL-CIO President George Meany and Chairman Adam Clayton Powell Jr. of the House Education and Labor Committee.

Disparity between the approaches taken by the secretary, a lawyer and former professor, and the undersecretary, a long-time unionist, have led to friction.

Loot From 2 Thefts Found Under Rail Car

Four bags of potato chips and some broken Christmas light bulbs, apparently the loot from two thefts, were found Wednesday under a boxcar on a siding at the Louthan Plant Division of the Ferro Corp. on Harvey Ave., police were advised.

A Louthan employe said he found the articles when preparing to unload the boxcar. Officers said the potato chips had not been reported stolen, but further investigation disclosed they apparently are the property of S. A. Leopardi of Ellwood City.

Dom Trivolino, a truck driver employed by Leopardi's firm, told Officer Orin C. Smith that a box of potato chips was stolen from his vehicle between 7:15 and 7:30 Tuesday night in East End. The Yule lights apparently had been stolen from a home in the same area, police said.

Traffic Manslaughter Charge Faces Driver

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Truck driver Harry Shuster has been charged with traffic manslaughter and bound over to the Portage Grand Jury. Shuster, 40, of Stow, was driving the gasoline tanker truck that crashed through the Crain Avenue bridge in Kent last Friday.

Shockley L. Graham, 72, of Stow, was killed when his auto plunged into the Cuyahoga River along with the truck. Shuster pleaded innocent Wednesday in Municipal court and was free on $1,000 bond. Shuster's truck was heavier than the legal posted load limit for the bridge, authorities said.

District Court Sues Man In Fraud Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — Andrew D. Adams of Akron, convicted Dec. 7 in federal court of defrauding the Dime Savings Bank of Akron, was sued for $148,000 in U. S. District Court Wednesday.

The suit was filed by an attorney for the U. S. Fidelity & Guarantee Co. and the Globe Indemnity Co. against Adams and two companies with which it said he put up "substantial collateral" to arrange bail. Adams is in Cuyahoga County jail waiting a pre-sentence report and could be given up to 40 years in prison and fined up to $50,000.

County Boys Captured In Road Pursuit

LISBON — Three Hanoverton area youths — two 15-year-olds and one 13—face an unmerry Christmas as the result of a police chase involving officers of three counties and ending in a muddy wheat field.

The trio was to be turned over today to Columbiana County juvenile authorities by Minerva police, who apprehended them following a pursuit in which the Minerva cruiser was struck by the youth's car and later got stuck in mud in the field.

Authorities said the boys were spotted by officers in Minerva about 11:30 p. m. driving recklessly, and the police attempted to halt them, but they sped out of town.

Minerva police alerted Columbiana County and Carroll County sheriff's deputies by radio, and chased the speeding auto east on Route 30 to Kensington.

The officers followed the youths' car when it turned onto Route 644 then headed south on Bethesda Church Rd. During the chase, the cruiser and auto collided, police said.

Finally, when the youths attempted to elude the pursuers, their car ran into a wheat field and stopped. The Minerva cruiser, following into the field, and the auto of the boys became stuck in the mire, and both had to be pulled out by a wrecker and farm tractor.

A Columbiana County deputy and a Carroll County deputy arrived in time to assist in the capture.

The trio faces five Juvenile Court charges, including reckless operation, failure to halt for a stop sign and crossing a yellow line.

Bomber Crashes Between Houses; 1 Killed, 2 Hurt

DEBARY, Fla. (AP) — A twin-jet bomber, screeching out of control after an explosion, crashed between two houses Wednesday, spreading a ball of fire and a moment of terror along a quiet Debary street.

One person was killed — the pilot who waited until the last minute to bail out in hopes of sparing the homes. Two persons on the ground were injured. One, Nils Ljungberg, 40, was trapped inside his car by the flames.

"I thought the bomb had dropped," said Mrs. S. E. Duffin who lives four blocks from where the plane dug a 35-foot crater and disintegrated.

The pilot, Cmdr. Cornelius V. Nolta Jr., father of six, landed in Mrs. Duffin's yard. "When we turned him over he was dead," she said.

The bombardier-navigator, Lt. Paul Stokes, 35, suffered a back injury.

"The crew rode with it to the last minute to clear the houses," said the senior fleet officer at Sanford Naval Air Station where the plane took off only a few minutes before the inflight explosion.

Two homes were destroyed as others as far as 300 feet away were damaged.

3 Ohio Fives In Top Ten

By The Associated Press

All signs point to another devastating season and another national small-college basketball championship for the Evansville Aces from Indiana.

With Larry Humes showing the way, the Aces whipped Louisiana State last Saturday for their fifth straight against major opponents. This gave them an over-all winning streak of 11, including a carryover of six from last season.

In fact, the Aces have a record of 26-1 in their last 27 games. That defeat was at the hands of Notre Dame and the Aces already have turned the tables on the Irish this season.

It is no surprise therefore that the Aces were named the No. 1 team Wednesday in The Associated Press small-college poll for the third straight week. They polled 11 of 12 first-place votes cast by an AP panel of sports writers and broadcasters. The only dissenting vote went to High Point.

The Aces thus missed a perfect total of 120 points by just one point. The Grambling Tigers from Louisiana, unbeaten through Dec. 21 like Evansville and High Point, retained second place with a total of 85 points on the basis of 10 for first place, nine for second, etc.

Rounding out the top ten were Winston-Salem, N.C.; Pan-American, Tex.; Wittenberg, Ohio; Fresno State, Calif.; Southern Illinois; High Point; Akron, and Youngstown, Ohio.

Would Revolutionize Airline Setup

750-Passenger Jetliner Seen Unlikely Before 70s

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A 750-passenger commercial jetliner, if an economic version ever appears, would revolutionize today's scheduled airline operations.

However, its debut is unlikely before the mid-1970s. Its most exciting possibility then: sharp fare cuts for long-hop travel, greatly stimulating coast-to-coast and overseas passenger traffic.

That, in a nutshell, was first airline reaction to a prospect raised by government plans to pour $750 million into developing a giant military-equipment and troop carrier with 250,000 pounds of pay lift.

A regular transatlantic jet handles 45 tons of cargo on a standard flight, or 120 passengers. Economy flights can take as many as 170 passengers.

The government's announcement Tuesday stirred speculation of a commercial sequel, even though Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said there were no thoughts along that line.

Major airlines sidestepped on-the-record comment beyond general expressions of interest, citing the many "ifs" involved on operating characteristics, operating costs and purchase price.

Selig Altschul, an aviation financial consultant, said if a commercial version met severe demands of economic operation, it probably would open the way for sizable fare cuts and result in a "great stimulation" of travel, chiefly to Europe.

"But there would be offsets to economies of size, he added. "Great improvements would be required by such a huge plane in ground handling facilities.

He mentioned extremely heavy demands on facilities for food service, baggage handling, sanitation, boarding and ticketing that today's airports are not equipped to cope with.

"How do you go about feeding a mob like that?" said a representative of Pan American World Airways.

An American Airlines official, asked about the attractiveness of a 750-ton behemoth in New York-Los Angeles service, observed that three airlines flying the route now carry roughly 1,500 persons each way spread among two dozen flights.

"You might say that would be two loads each way. What kind of frequency of service would this allow?" he asked. "Certainly not what today's air traveler has come to demand."

Progress Is Reported In Unions-Rails Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Railroads and five operating unions have made progress in discussing issues that had brought a strike threat, and the talks will continue Jan. 5.

This word came from the federal mediator, Francis A. O'Neill Jr., who said some advances had been made on job security, the major remaining question. The deadline for agreement has again been extended, O'Neill said, and there is at present no threat of a strike over job security.

These talks are apart from wage negotiations by three non-operating unions which have posed the threat of a strike after Jan. 1.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The amounts of certain radioactive material found in milk in the United States increased after the Oct. 16 nuclear test by Red China — but levels are well within the range of acceptable health risk, the Public Health Service says.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A storm has blown up around Undersecretary of Labor John F. Henning. Secretary W. Willard Wirtz is known to be seeking Henning's departure, but the undersecretary is strongly backed by AFL-CIO President George Meany and Chairman Adam Clayton Powell Jr. of the House Education and Labor Committee.

Disparity between the approaches taken by the secretary, a lawyer and former professor, and the undersecretary, a long-time unionist, have led to friction.

Loot From 2 Thefts Found Under Rail Car

Four bags of potato chips and some broken Christmas light bulbs, apparently the loot from two thefts, were found Wednesday under a boxcar on a siding at the Louthan Plant Division of the Ferro Corp. on Harvey Ave., police were advised.

A Louthan employe said he found the articles when preparing to unload the boxcar. Officers said the potato chips had not been reported stolen, but further investigation disclosed they apparently are the property of S. A. Leopardi of Ellwood City.

Dom Trivolino, a truck driver employed by Leopardi's firm, told Officer Orin C. Smith that a box of potato chips was stolen from his vehicle between 7:15 and 7:30 Tuesday night in East End. The Yule lights apparently had been stolen from a home in the same area, police said.

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Truck driver Harry Shuster has been charged with traffic manslaughter and bound over to the Portage Grand Jury. Shuster, 40, of Stow, was driving the gasoline tanker truck that crashed through the Crain Avenue bridge in Kent last Friday.

Shockley L. Graham, 72, of Stow, was killed when his auto plunged into the Cuyahoga River along with the truck. Shuster pleaded innocent Wednesday in Municipal court and was free on $1,000 bond. Shuster's truck was heavier than the legal posted load limit for the bridge, authorities said.

The suit was filed by an attorney for the U. S. County Boys Captured In Road Pursuit

LISBON — Three Hanoverton area youths — two 15-year-olds and one 13—face an unmerry Christmas as the result of a police chase involving officers of three counties and ending in a muddy wheat field.

The trio was to be turned over today to Columbiana County juvenile authorities by Minerva police, who apprehended them following a pursuit in which the Minerva cruiser was struck by the youth's car and later got stuck in mud in the field.

Authorities said the boys were spotted by officers in Minerva about 11:30 p. m. driving recklessly, and the police attempted to halt them, but they sped out of town.

Minerva police alerted Columbiana County and Carroll County sheriff's deputies by radio, and chased the speeding auto east on Route 30 to Kensington.

The officers followed the youths' car when it turned onto Route 644 then headed south on Bethesda Church Rd. During the chase, the cruiser and auto collided, police said.

Finally, when the youths attempted to elude the pursuers, their car ran into a wheat field and stopped. The Minerva cruiser, following into the field, and the auto of the boys became stuck in the mire, and both had to be pulled out by a wrecker and farm tractor.

A Columbiana County deputy and a Carroll County deputy arrived in time to assist in the capture.

The trio faces five Juvenile Court charges, including reckless operation, failure to halt for a stop sign and crossing a yellow line.

Bomber Crashes Between Houses; 1 Killed, 2 Hurt

DEBARY, Fla. (AP) — A twin-jet bomber, screeching out of control after an explosion, crashed between two houses Wednesday, spreading a ball of fire and a moment of terror along a quiet Debary street.

One person was killed — the pilot who waited until the last minute to bail out in hopes of sparing the homes. Two persons on the ground were injured. One, Nils Ljungberg, 40, was trapped inside his car by the flames.

"I thought the bomb had dropped," said Mrs. S. E. Duffin who lives four blocks from where the plane dug a 35-foot crater and disintegrated.

The pilot, Cmdr. Cornelius V. Nolta Jr., father of six, landed in Mrs. Duffin's yard. "When we turned him over he was dead," she said.

The bombardier-navigator, Lt. Paul Stokes, 35, suffered a back injury.

"The crew rode with it to the last minute to clear the houses," said the senior fleet officer at Sanford Naval Air Station where the plane took off only a few minutes before the inflight explosion.

Two homes were destroyed as others as far as 300 feet away were damaged.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN

Early Returns

CBS-TV President James T. Aubrey Jr.'s nationally chronicled strategy for restoring "The Beverly Hillbillies" to the top of the ratings heap either hasn't impressed viewers or was executed so swiftly they were caught off guard. Only time will tell.

Richard Doan

At any rate, two comedies, "Mr. Ed" and "My Living Doll," thrown into the evening leadoff spot Wednesday night to give "Hillbillies" a bigger audience build-up, not only failed in this objective, but actually pulled poorer ratings than the previous week's "CBS Reports," shown at the same hour.

-:-

ACCORDING TO a National Arbitron survey, "Mr. Ed" got a 10.3 rating and "Doll" a 9.7, whereas the Wednesday documentary on "Segregation: Northern Style," rated a 10.5.

As a result, "Hillbillies" got a 22.0 compared to last week's 22.9.

Apparently ABC's "Ozzie and Harriet" immediately gained most from the CBS shuffle, its rating going from 14.1 last week to 14.7 this Wednesday.

Viewing in general was slightly off. ABC's "Patty Duke Show" dropped from 19.9 to 17.9 and "Shindig" from 16.1 to 14.7. NBC's "The Virginian" was down from 21.3 to 20.3.

-:-

AUBREY'S shakeup of all seven nights of his new season's evening programming hadn't had much time, of course, to make a perceptible dent in the over-all network standings.

Arbitron gave NBC a leading edge of 18.0 for the seven nights ending Wednesday, with CBS at 17.8 and ABC 15.6.

In his announcement to CBS affiliated stations coast to coast a week ago of his unprecedented midseason overhaul of programming, Aubrey said he believed shifting "CBS Reports" to 10 p.m. Mondays would give it "more adult viewers" and "Hillbillies," by following two comedies rather than the news documentaries, would "be on its way back to the top 10."

Shifting of "CBS Reports" to late Monday did have one immediate effect. ABC's "Ben Casey" and NBC's "Hitchcock Hour," seen late Mondays, both got higher ratings.

A FLURRY of star-name castings and programming disclosures partially dispelled the pall of the TV ratings war.

Trevor Howard, it was announced, will portray Napoleon Bonaparte in an original TV drama, "Eagle in a Cage," to be taped for NBC's "Hall of Fame" in February for showing at a later, undetermined date.

Millard Lampell is writing the teleplay, which deals with Napoleon's exile years on St. Helena.

Trevor Howard won an Emmy two seasons ago for his "Hall of Fame" portrayal of Benjamin Disraeli. He currently is in the movie, "Father Goose."

FREDRIC MARCH, last season's voice of Christopher Columbus on a "Saga of Western Man" special on ABC, will play the off-camera role of Leonardo da Vinci in a "Saga" being produced by John Secondari for showing Feb. 23.

Anthony Newley's forthcoming Broadway musical, "Roar of the Grease Paint," will be one subject of the first "Preview," a series of ABC specials taking viewers behind the scenes at movie and theatrical locales. Doug Fairbanks Jr. will be host - narrator. The first show will be seen Feb. 4.

Newley was a Broadway hit in "Stop the World — I Want To Get Off!"

-:-

SHELLEY FABARES, who grew up on the Donna Reed show on ABC, has been signed by MGM-TV to star in a pilot for a half-hour series, "Meet Me in St. Louis," based on Judy Garland's 1944 hit movie. ABC will have a look at the pilot.

CBS' "Lamp Unto My Feet" on Jan. 3 will look at the late Dag Hammarskjold, including the United Nations secretary-general's writings in the posthumously published "Markings."

CBS will consider a "James Bond style" Western series starring Robert Conrad, once a "Hawaiian Eye" regular.

Wellsville Post Closes For Yule

Wellsville American Legion Post 70 will close its post home tonight at 6 and will not reopen until Friday night, officers said.

A meeting slated Monday has been canceled because of the holiday week.

The auxiliary of the post has prepared baskets for the needy, with the assistance of a sizable contribution from the post.

Plans have been completed for a New Year's Eve party for which "The Blue Shades" will provide music.

Elmer Call and Ralph Kelly have been enrolled as members. All new members will be initiated in January.

Cunningham Studies Question On Tax Job

Councilman James Cunningham said today he has not expressed an opinion either for or against a proposal to eliminate the position of Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson, adding he expects to study the question and listen to public sentiment before taking a stand.

Cunningham issued the explanation after a published statement in The Review Wednesday that the "six - man Democratic majority in Council" evidently planned to eliminate the post of Wilkinson, a Republican. Cunningham pointed out that neither he nor Councilman Donald E. Smith, also a Democrat, expressed themselves during the Council discussion Monday night.

Saxbe Will Seek To Have Naples Put Back In Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Joey Naples, a Youngstown rackets figure, is out of prison today—but the attorney general plans to try to have put him back inside.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe said his office would join with Mahoning County Prosecutor Clyde Osborne today in asking a rehearing on the federal court order granting Naples freedom.

Saxbe said an assistant who agreed to the release ordered Monday by U. S. District Judge Mell G. Underwood was without authority when he acted. Underwood granted a writ of habeas corpus on grounds a search warrant used to obtain evidence against Naples had been improperly obtained.

He gave Mahoning County 60 days in which to take new action against Naples, who had been convicted on charges of promoting a numbers game and receiving stolen property.

Naples was convicted in 1962. Two older brothers were killed in gangland fashion in Youngstown.

Rest Home Operators Quitting Rules Battle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A group of nursing home operators who have battled Ohio's new regulations for almost five years have apparently decided to call it quits.

The legal deadline for new action by the operators passed Monday when they failed to ask the Ohio Supreme Court for a re-hearing. The high court rejected a suit seeking to void the laws. The new rules call for more patient space, more nurses per patient and improved building and safety standards.

AUBREY'S shakeup of all seven nights of his new season's evening programming hadn't had much time, of course, to make a perceptible dent in the over-all network standings.

Arbitron gave NBC a leading edge of 18.0 for the seven nights ending Wednesday, with CBS at 17.8 and ABC 15.6.

In his announcement to CBS affiliated stations coast to coast a week ago of his unprecedented midseason overhaul of programming, Aubrey said he believed shifting "CBS Reports" to 10 p.m. Mondays would give it "more adult viewers" and "Hillbillies," by following two comedies rather than the news documentaries, would "be on its way back to the top 10."

Shifting of "CBS Reports" to late Monday did have one immediate effect. ABC's "Ben Casey" and NBC's "Hitchcock Hour," seen late Mondays, both got higher ratings.

A FLURRY of star-name castings and programming disclosures partially dispelled the pall of the TV ratings war.

Trevor Howard, it was announced, will portray Napoleon Bonaparte in an original TV drama, "Eagle in a Cage," to be taped for NBC's "Hall of Fame" in February for showing at a later, undetermined date. Millard Lampell is writing the teleplay, which deals with Napoleon's exile years on St. Helena.

Trevor Howard won an Emmy two seasons ago for his "Hall of Fame" portrayal of Benjamin Disraeli. He currently is in the movie, "Father Goose."

FREDRIC MARCH, last season's voice of Christopher Columbus on a "Saga of Western Man" special on ABC, will play the off-camera role of Leonardo da Vinci in a "Saga" being produced by John Secondari for showing Feb. 23.

Anthony Newley's forthcoming Broadway musical, "Roar of the Grease Paint," will be one subject of the first "Preview," a series of ABC specials taking viewers behind the scenes at movie and theatrical locales. Doug Fairbanks Jr. will be host - narrator. The first show will be seen Feb. 4.

Newley was a Broadway hit in "Stop the World — I Want To Get Off!"

-:-

SHELLEY FABARES, who grew up on the Donna Reed show on ABC, has been signed by MGM-TV to star in a pilot for a half-hour series, "Meet Me in St. Louis," based on Judy Garland's 1944 hit movie. ABC will have a look at the pilot.

CBS' "Lamp Unto My Feet" on Jan. 3 will look at the late Dag Hammarskjold, including the United Nations secretary-general's writings in the posthumously published "Markings."

CBS will consider a "James Bond style" Western series starring Robert Conrad, once a "Hawaiian Eye" regular.

Wellsville Post Closes For Yule

Wellsville American Legion Post 70 will close its post home tonight at 6 and will not reopen until Friday night, officers said.

A meeting slated Monday has been canceled because of the holiday week.

The auxiliary of the post has prepared baskets for the needy, with the assistance of a sizable contribution from the post.

Plans have been completed for a New Year's Eve party for which "The Blue Shades" will provide music.

Elmer Call and Ralph Kelly have been enrolled as members. All new members will be initiated in January.

Cunningham Studies Question On Tax Job

Councilman James Cunningham said today he has not expressed an opinion either for or against a proposal to eliminate the position of Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson, adding he expects to study the question and listen to public sentiment before taking a stand.

Cunningham issued the explanation after a published statement in The Review Wednesday that the "six - man Democratic majority in Council" evidently planned to eliminate the post of Wilkinson, a Republican. Cunningham pointed out that neither he nor Councilman Donald E. Smith, also a Democrat, expressed themselves during the Council discussion Monday night.

Saxbe Will Seek To Have Naples Put Back In Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Joey Naples, a Youngstown rackets figure, is out of prison today—but the attorney general plans to try to have put him back inside.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe said his office would join with Mahoning County Prosecutor Clyde Osborne today in asking a rehearing on the federal court order granting Naples freedom.

Saxbe said an assistant who agreed to the release ordered Monday by U. S. District Judge Mell G. Underwood was without authority when he acted. Underwood granted a writ of habeas corpus on grounds a search warrant used to obtain evidence against Naples had been improperly obtained.

He gave Mahoning County 60 days in which to take new action against Naples, who had been convicted on charges of promoting a numbers game and receiving stolen property.

Naples was convicted in 1962. Two older brothers were killed in gangland fashion in Youngstown.

Rest Home Operators Quitting Rules Battle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A group of nursing home operators who have battled Ohio's new regulations for almost five years have apparently decided to call it quits.

The legal deadline for new action by the operators passed Monday when they failed to ask the Ohio Supreme Court for a re-hearing. The high court rejected a suit seeking to void the laws. The new rules call for more patient space, more nurses per patient and improved building and safety standards.

Elderly Local Men Injured In 2 Mishaps

Two elderly East Liverpool men were injured when struck by cars Wednesday afternoon and night and three more persons complained of minor injuries after separate auto collisions in East End and Pleasant Heights, police reported.

Emmett Crawford, 75, of 141 College St. was injured for the third time in three weeks when he was hit by a backing auto while walking across a service station lot on E. 3rd St., police reported.

Crawford was admitted to City Hospital with abrasions of both hands and the forehead and lacerations of the right eye suffered at 7:55 p. m. when bumped by a 1956 sedan driven by Mrs. Anna L. Shepard, 42, of New Cumberland R. D. 2.

Police said Crawford was walking across the lot at Al's Atlantic Service Station. The woman told officers she was backing to get into position to pull onto E. 3rd St. when she heard her car "hit something." She told officers she did not see Crawford.

Crawford was hurt Dec. 3 when hit by a turning truck as he walked across E. 3rd St. at Broadway, just about a half a block from last night's mishap. He suffered facial injuries Dec. 14 in a fall while walking on College St. His condition today was "fairly good."

Robert Henderson Long, 79, of 803 Bradshaw Ave. was in "fair" condition today at the hospital with a fracture and contusions of the right leg suffered at 5:34 p. m. Wednesday at Avondale St. and Bradshaw Ave. when bumped by a car.

Officers said Long was struck by a 1960 sedan operated by Leonard J. Jividen, 39, of 1104 Avondale St.

Jividen told police he was making a left turn from Bradshaw onto Avondale when he felt a "thump" and heard a man shout. He said he stopped and found his car had struck Long. The elderly man told officers he looked both ways before stepping into the street, but saw no oncoming traffic.

Two young men were treated at the hospital for neck pains and headaches after a collision Wednesday at 3 p. m. on Lisbon St. just west of the Pleasant Heights School.

They are John D. Bowen, 18, of LaCroft, whose auto was hit from the rear, and his passenger, Colan Alford, 18, also of LaCroft.

Bowen told police his 1960 station wagon was halted to make a left turn when hit from the rear by a 1957 two - door sedan driven by Carol Jean Hendricks, 19, of 8th Ave., LaCroft.

The young woman was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. Her Municipal Court hearing is set tentatively for Monday.

Another man complained of neck pains following a three-way collision on Pennsylvania Ave. at Lee St. Wednesday at 5:11 p. m., police said.

The mishap involved a 1958 four-door sedan driven by William K. Tullis, 22, of 1094 High St., a 1961 two - door sedan operated by Edward Dray, 61, of 515 College St. and a 1955 four - door sedan driven by Kathleen Everhart, 24, of 521 Bridge St., police said.

Dray complained of neck pains following the mishap, police said. He was not treated at the hospital.

The woman driver was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance and her hearing also is scheduled tentatively for Monday morning in Municipal Court.

Police said the three drivers agreed that Tullis and Dray were slowing or stopped when the Everhart car hit the Dray auto and shoved it into the rear of the Tullis auto.

Lausche To Use Salary Increase For Scholarships

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, is going to use his $7,500 salary increase to set up a scholarship fund "for needy Ohio youths wanting to go to college."

Lausche announced Wednesday that when the pay increase takes effect in January he hopes friends will help him to augment the fund.

Lausche reminded newsmen that he opposed the boost of senators' salaries to $30,000 annually, voted by the recent Congress.

"I said I would not accept the pay increase because it was not justified and not in the best interests of the taxpayers and the economy of our country," the Cleveland senator said.

Elderly Local Men Injured In 2 Mishaps

Two elderly East Liverpool men were injured when struck by cars Wednesday afternoon and night and three more persons complained of minor injuries after separate auto collisions in East End and Pleasant Heights, police reported.

Emmett Crawford, 75, of 141 College St. was injured for the third time in three weeks when he was hit by a backing auto while walking across a service station lot on E. 3rd St., police reported.

Crawford was admitted to City Hospital with abrasions of both hands and the forehead and lacerations of the right eye suffered at 7:55 p. m. when bumped by a 1956 sedan driven by Mrs. Anna L. Shepard, 42, of New Cumberland R. D. 2.

Police said Crawford was walking across the lot at Al's Atlantic Service Station. The woman told officers she was backing to get into position to pull onto E. 3rd St. when she heard her car "hit something." She told officers she did not see Crawford.

Crawford was hurt Dec. 3 when hit by a turning truck as he walked across E. 3rd St. at Broadway, just about a half a block from last night's mishap. He suffered facial injuries Dec. 14 in a fall while walking on College St. His condition today was "fairly good."

Robert Henderson Long, 79, of 803 Bradshaw Ave. was in "fair" condition today at the hospital with a fracture and contusions of the right leg suffered at 5:34 p. m. Wednesday at Avondale St. and Bradshaw Ave. when bumped by a car.

Officers said Long was struck by a 1960 sedan operated by Leonard J. Jividen, 39, of 1104 Avondale St.

Jividen told police he was making a left turn from Bradshaw onto Avondale when he felt a "thump" and heard a man shout. He said he stopped and found his car had struck Long. The elderly man told officers he looked both ways before stepping into the street, but saw no oncoming traffic.

Two young men were treated at the hospital for neck pains and headaches after a collision Wednesday at 3 p. m. on Lisbon St. just west of the Pleasant Heights School.

They are John D. Bowen, 18, of LaCroft, whose auto was hit from the rear, and his passenger, Colan Alford, 18, also of LaCroft.

Bowen told police his 1960 station wagon was halted to make a left turn when hit from the rear by a 1957 two - door sedan driven by Carol Jean Hendricks, 19, of 8th Ave., LaCroft.

The young woman was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. Her Municipal Court hearing is set tentatively for Monday.

Another man complained of neck pains following a three-way collision on Pennsylvania Ave. at Lee St. Wednesday at 5:11 p. m., police said.

The mishap involved a 1958 four-door sedan driven by William K. Tullis, 22, of 1094 High St., a 1961 two - door sedan operated by Edward Dray, 61, of 515 College St. and a 1955 four - door sedan driven by Kathleen Everhart, 24, of 521 Bridge St., police said.

Dray complained of neck pains following the mishap, police said. He was not treated at the hospital.

The woman driver was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance and her hearing also is scheduled tentatively for Monday morning in Municipal Court.

Police said the three drivers agreed that Tullis and Dray were slowing or stopped when the Everhart car hit the Dray auto and shoved it into the rear of the Tullis auto.

Lausche To Use Salary Increase For Scholarships

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, is going to use his $7,500 salary increase to set up a scholarship fund "for needy Ohio youths wanting to go to college."

Lausche announced Wednesday that when the pay increase takes effect in January he hopes friends will help him to augment the fund.

Lausche reminded newsmen that he opposed the boost of senators' salaries to $30,000 annually, voted by the recent Congress.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Pretender Feels Lack Of Appreciation

Often a mother writes of the child 3, 4 or 5, even older, who simulates the ways of a baby brother or sister, and wants to be treated so.

Dr. Garry Myers

Often this annoys the mother, who scolds or shames the child for acting so babyish; which rarely, if ever, helps the simulating child. The mother should easily discern the cause of this child's behavior: when he wants to get the kind of attention the baby gets, he is suffering from jealousy.

To illustrate, a mother from Michigan writes: "My son, 3, insists that he is a girl (I would like to explain here, that his little sister was born when he was seventeen months old). Anyway, he says that he's a Mama, and he wears something on his head for hair and then starts dancing around in a very feminine way.

—:—

ANOTHER time he's a baby and wants a bottle like his little sister. I've tried to ignore this situation, but both my husband and I are disturbed over this. I might add that this has been going on since our little girl was a year old, and I wonder if this may purely be a case of jealousy.

"We have one other child—a boy who is five years old.

"This child is also extremely whiney, and I've been trying to spend much more time with him lately — which seems to be helping somewhat."

My reply in part: Your little boy's wish to be a girl may not be significant. His baby sister is a girl and his desire to have from you the attention she gets, induces him to act as she does; he naturally pretends in himself feminine qualities.

Your big problem is to help him, gradually, to gain more satisfaction from the things he can do that she can't do — making things she can't make, enjoying active fun she is not able to enjoy, doing for himself things she can't do for herself.

SINCE YOU must do so much for the baby, Dad might spend more time with this little boy, reading to him, making things with him, walking with him, explaining things to him, answering his questions and having fun with him. Even you should try to find some time alone with this little fellow, as when the baby is asleep by day, or after she has been put to bed at night.

Wonderful if this boy could attend a nursery school or the nursery department of a Sunday school. He needs to spend sometime with other children of his age, especially boys. In the meanwhile, don't let yourself get angry at his pretending he's a girl. Be patient, even pamper him some, hoping he will bid for such attention less and less, eventually.

Akin to the foregoing problems is that of a child from four to six who, having learned to dress himself partly or completely, begins to dawdle over dressing and to insist that mother dress him. Usually there's a much younger child that the mother has to dress. While this older child needs some patient help, he also needs far wider help at feeling more worthwhile, loved and wanted.

WITH people coming into the city in response to the tax order, the innkeeper was hard pressed to accommodate guests. While some had been turned away, he had relented in one case, telling the couple they could stay in the stable. After all, they had made a long journey and the woman was with child.

It was just another ordinary night in Bethlehem. The city had finally quieted and out in the hills the shepherds tended their flocks.

And then...a star shone over Bethlehem!

Nearly twenty centuries have passed since the story of love, sacrifice and hope had its beginning that night in a manger. For nearly two thousand years the light of the Bethlehem star has guided mankind just as it guided the shepherds that night so long ago.

Today it continues to beckon mankind, holding forth the promise of peace and hope... a beacon marking the way for man on the path of life.

THE OTHER DAY

AL GREEN

A friend was talking about Christmas, how it is celebrated in every free country of the world, with slightly varying customs, but that basically it is a time which generates peace in men of good will wherever they are. How right he is . . . it has often caused a truce between bitter foes on the battlefield, as though men were pausing in his destruction to acknowledge that he see that other men are not really his enemy. Our friend said that perhaps nations, or even groups, cannot find the answers; that they can be found only by each individual by himself. We read something that might help us keep such an idea in mind: it's thought worth repeating quite frequently, silently to ourselves: "Be kind, for everyone you meet is fighting a hard battle." A permanent spirit of good will, given out all year long, cannot get back anything but more good will, ever growing, and enduring as long as the giving lasts, which can be a whole lifetime. To you, our heartfelt good wishes!

THE OTHER DAY

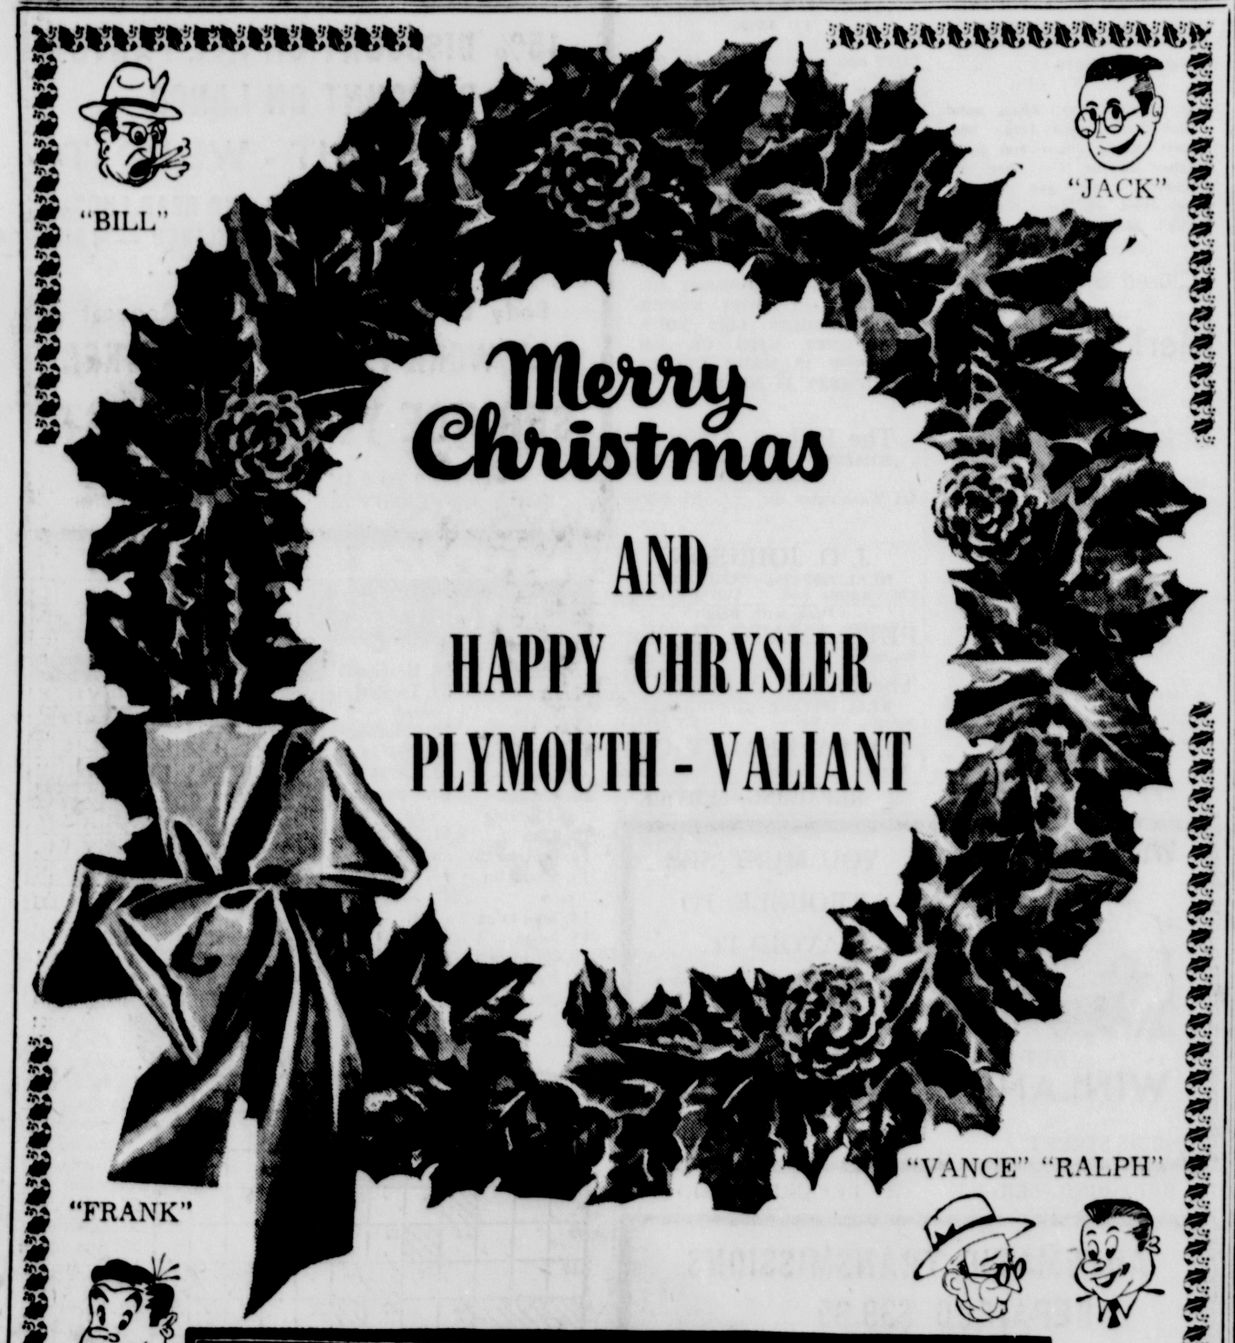

AL GREEN

A friend was talking about Christmas, how it is celebrated in every free country of the world, with slightly varying customs, but that basically it is a time which generates peace in men of good will wherever they are. How right he is . . . it has often caused a truce between bitter foes on the battlefield, as though men were pausing in his destruction to acknowledge that he see that other men are not really his enemy. Our friend said that perhaps nations, or even groups, cannot find the answers; that they can be found only by each individual by himself. We read something that might help us keep such an idea in mind: it's thought worth repeating quite frequently, silently to ourselves: "Be kind, for everyone you meet is fighting a hard battle." A permanent spirit of good will, given out all year long, cannot get back anything but more good will, ever growing, and enduring as long as the giving lasts, which can be a whole lifetime. To you, our heartfelt good wishes!

"We'll have to straighten his room up a bit or else we won't know last year's presents from this year's."

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Dec. 24, the 359th day of 1964. There are seven days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1814, the Treaty of Ghent was signed by the United States and Britain. It officially ended the War of 1812.

On this date:

In 1809, American frontiersman and soldier Kit Carson was born.

In 1939, Pope Pius XII thanked President Franklin D. Roosevelt for appointing a personal representative at the Vatican.

In 1942, U.S. bombers made a surprise attack on Japanese-held Wake Island.

In 1943, President Roosevelt announced that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would lead the Allied invasion of Western Europe.

In 1945, former federal convicts who had been in the armed services one year or more were granted full pardons and their rights as citiens were restored.

Ten years ago — Communist Yugoslavia admitted a growing movement for the injection of more democracy in the nation.

Five years ago — Christmas shopping suffered in New York as efforts to end the newspaper strike reached a stalemeate.

One year ago — Pope Paul VI, in his first Christmas message, said ending hunger was the world's No. 1 problem.

Odd Facts

The 180th meridan is used as the approximate Date Line, where the date must be advanced one day when crossing it in a westerly direction and set back one day when crossing it in an easterly direction.

The winter of 1962-63 (December-February) rates among the most severe in the eastern half of the nation during the last 100 years.

Junior Editors Quiz on RHINOCEROS

QUESTION: Why has a rhinoceros such poor eyesight?

ANSWER: A rhinoceros does have weak eyesight, but at the same time is quick to become aware of the presence of intruders in the territory where he is peacefully browsing. This quickness is because of the high development of the rhino's senses of hearing and smelling. In the large picture, notice how big the ears are and how widely the nostrils are opened, bringing information his dull little eyes could not pick up. Animals' senses are generally adjusted to the particular environment they live in. Since the vegetarian rhino generally grazes in high reeds or grass, sharp eyesight would not be as valuable as keen hearing and sense of smell.

There are several kinds of rhinoceros. The Indian rhino (upper left) has a single horn; its thick skin hangs in folds. The two-horned rhinos (right and below) come from Africa. The horns — actually composed of highly specialized hairs — are useful for grubbing up vegetable growth of different kinds. They are also formidable weapons.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Could a heavy, clumsy-looking rhino run as fast as a horse? Think and guess. The answer is below.

★ ★ ★

Connie Kanipe of Rock Hill, S. C., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you may win the weekly grand prize of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia. (Answer: Yes, for a short distance.)

Junior Editors Quiz on RHINOCEROS

QUESTION: Why has a rhinoceros such poor eyesight?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: A rhinoceros does have weak eyesight, but at the same time is quick to become aware of the presence of intruders in the territory where he is peacefully browsing. This quickness is because of the high development of the rhino's senses of hearing and smelling. In the large picture, notice how big the ears are and how widely the nostrils are opened, bringing information his dull little eyes could not pick up. Animals' senses are generally adjusted to the particular environment they live in. Since the vegetarian rhino generally grazes in high reeds or grass, sharp eyesight would not be as valuable as keen hearing and sense of smell.

There are several kinds of rhinoceros. The Indian rhino (upper left) has a single horn; its thick skin hangs in folds. The two-horned rhinos (right and below) come from Africa. The horns — actually composed of highly specialized hairs — are useful for grubbing up vegetable growth of different kinds. They are also formidable weapons.

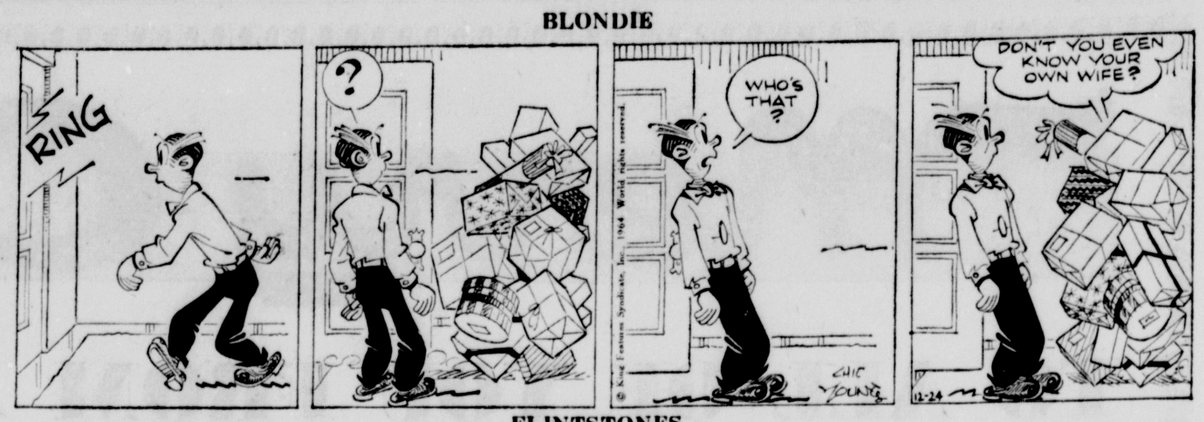

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Could a heavy, clumsy-looking rhino run as fast as a horse? Think and guess. The answer is below.

Snow removal would be impossible without two chemicals that melt snow and ice. They are sodium chloride (plain rock salt) and calcium chloride. They are often mixed together, especially at low temperatures, for top ice melting power.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Last night I had to fix a hurried supper so I got out a packaged macaroni and cheese dinner.

One package of it makes twice as much as we can eat for one meal (and macaroni just isn't quite as good warmed over) so I decided to divide it.

I laid the foil package of cheese on the counter and flattened it with my hand. With a knife blade, I pushed down across the center of the package, and the cheese moved back from the center.

I cut the foil across this indentation, turned the cut edge foil over on one of the halves of the metal package, rolled it up as far as I could and set the package aside. I took the other half, plus half the macaroni, and prepared it for dinner.

Now I have half the cheese and half the macaroni left over to be freshly prepared for another meal.

This method would also work on other foil wrapped items. . such as French onion soup mix, when you want to make only half the recipe of soup or dip, etc.

This is a good idea for small families or those who live alone.

DEAR HELOISE: Please pass this on to other mothers. It saves so many falls and bumps.

I tried tape and sanding the soles of my baby's shoes, but they were still slippery. Then I bought some very thin foam rubber, (about one-eighth-inch thick) and glued it to the soles of his shoes. Result - no more falls.

When this piece of foam rubber has worn off, take a razor blade and scrape off the remains and apply a new strip. Works beautifully.

DEAR HELOISE: I wonder how I can remove old cellophane tape from the inside of my cupboard doors where I taped some recipes.

Senior Citizen Faces '65 Conscience Free

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — An unidentified senior citizen has faced up to the challenge of Christmas and faces 1965 conscience free.

Thirty-five years ago the man, hard hit by the depression, filed a claim with Aetna Insurance Co. for the accidental burning of his Model-T Ford. The company paid him $225 damages.

The man walked into the office of Aetna agent James L. Busby Wednesday, announced the 1929 fire was no accident and offered to return the money.

"He paid us $225 cash and seemed greatly relieved that we would accept the money," Busby said.
